CREW'S LIVES LOST WHEN MINE STRIKES GREEK OIL-CARRIER

Some Survivors Picked Up From Burning Ship Sinking Off Northeastern Coast of Spain—Vessel Struck Within Hour of Sailing From French Port Near Border

BARCELONA, March 4 (CP-Havas).—The Greek freighter Loulie was on fire and sinking off the northeastern Spanish coast tonight after striking a submerged mine, which, it was believed, killed most of the crew of twenty-four.

Some survivors were picked up, according to reports reaching here. Two bodies were washed ashore.

HOURLY AFTER SAILING

The tragedy occurred close to the spot where a British and a French freighter narrowly escaped the same fate within the past week. The explosion took place an hour after the 2,143-ton freighter sailed from Port Vendres, a French port near the Spanish border.

Nearby vessels rushed to the rescue, attracted by the flames as the Loulie's cargo of 3,000 tons of gasoline caught fire. The ship, which carried no wireless, was a floating torch by the time they arrived. Several of the crew could still be seen, seeking escape.

OTHER VICTIMS

The French freighter, Marie-Therese de Bourne, hit a mine off Cape Creus, slightly to the north, last November. She put into Palamos under her own power, however. The British steamship, Llanedochy Castle, with 227 passengers aboard, struck a mine two miles southeast of Cape Creus on February 25. Her hull ripped open by the blast, the ship limped the few miles to Port Vendres.

POTATO GLASH BEING WATCHED

B.C. Coast Vegetable Marketing Board Acting on Its Own Authority

The Provincial Government will accept no responsibility for clashes at bridgeheads entering Vancouver in the renewal of the Mainland potato "war." Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, said yesterday, on his return from Vancouver, so far as the Province is concerned, it will expect both sides of the dispute to obey the law, the Minister of Agriculture said. Apart from that, the Province is ready to carry its own marketing law to the Privy Council, if it be.

Control and regulation of potato shipments come under the British Columbia Coast Vegetable Board, Dr. MacDonald pointed out. Through a system of tags, that board identifies shipments sold on the home market. Permits are issued for export shipments. Potatoes in transit, therefore, must either be tagged or else covered by permit.

PICKETING

To ascertain whether the regulations of the board are being obeyed, police have been stopping vegetable trucks, so that inspectors of the board can search them. Recently bridgeheads have been picketed at Richmond, New Westminster and Lulu Island approaches, with clashes occurring in which one inspector was injured.

To tighten control over the bridgeheads, the vegetable board has now appointed some of those picketing as temporary inspectors, Dr. MacDonald said.

The Minister made it clear, however, the vegetable board remains responsible for its own regulations, and that the Province, other than in the maintenance of law and order, is standing clear.

HOLLYWOOD REALISM NO GOOD IN SPAIN

MADRID, March 4 (AP).—War thrills in Hollywood fashion brought derisive looks today from movie picture audiences in Madrid, where the real thing is a part of the daily life.

"Pull down the shade, you fool!" the audience shouted when one of the film characters, during a night air raid, rushed into a room, turned on the lights and started dashing off a dramatic letter of farewell.

No One Is Injured When Train Derailed

Four trainmen miraculously escaped injury recently when this mail-express flyer was derailed by a boulder on the Southern Pacific transcontinental line 250 miles east of Reno. No passengers were aboard. This unusual photo was taken by an amateur photographer on the Overland Limited, delayed by the wreck.

Government Starting on Extensive Programme of Armament Organization

Mechanization of Whole Infantry Force to Start Next Month

AIR RAID WARDENS WILL BE ENLISTED

LONDON, March 4 (AP).—An intense programme of army mechanization, measures to spur recruiting, construction of fourteen new munitions factories and enlistment of 300,000 "air raid wardens" were steps in Britain's rearmament programme announced today.

Tomorrow the Royal Air Force estimates probably will be brought down. The army estimates today totaled $22,174,000 ($410,870,000), an increase of $26,293,000 over 1936. Yesterday naval estimates totaling $105,965,000, an increase of $23,776,000, were submitted to Parliament. Together they comprise the biggest armaments bill Britain has known in times of peace.

PART OF BUDGET

The estimates will form a part of the budget to be brought down shortly by Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer. Of the army estimates, $19,054,000 will be met from the $400,000,000 to be raised in defence loans over the next five years, while $27,000,000 of the naval estimates will be met in this way. The remainder will be raised from revenue.

A statement submitted with the estimates revealed mechanization of practically the entire infantry of the British army at home will be under way by April 1, while overseas garrisons will start on October 1. Two infantry battalions will be

Lily Pons Is Anxious to Enjoy Snow

OTTAWA, March 4 (AP).—Lily Pons, petite opera singer, was delighted to see snow falling in Ottawa on her arrival today, for it convinced her she was "really in Canada," but she had shoe merchants scratching their heads when she ordered "snow shoes."

The footwear problem was solved, however, when Miss Pons explained she really meant overshoes—the velvet ones with the fur trimmings.

Unloading of Ship At Vancouver Halts Because of Dispute

Crew of American Steamer Refuses to Supply Steam Unless Cargo Removal Done by Union Not Recognized in Port

VANCOUVER, March 4 (AP).—United States maritime disputes crossed the international boundary into Canadian waters today, halting unloading of the American-owned steamship West Ira as Vancouver members of the International Longshoremen's Association and Inland Boatmen of the Pacific picketed the vessel on her arrival here.

Crew of the West Ira, owned by McCormick Steamship Company, of San Francisco, refused to provide steam for the ship winches after conference with the pickets. About 100 tons of the ship's 550 tons of cargo had been unloaded when work stopped.

Union spokesmen said the West Ira's crew had communicated with Seattle offices of their organization, the Sailors' Union of the Pacific, and had been advised to refuse steam unless unloading was done by the Vancouver local of the I.L.A.

Proposal Leads to Hurried Caucus Of Social Credit Party

EDMONTON, March 4 (AP).—A session of the Aberhart Cabinet was called suddenly tonight after A. L. Blue (S.C., Ribstone), proposed in the Alberta Legislature that a Social Credit technician be engaged to plan a new economic order for the province. Later a general caucus was held.

The whole episode brought into the open a movement which has been reported for several days. Back-bench supporters of the Government have been reported dissatisfied with progress of the Government in establishing Social Credit. The movement gained momentum after Premier Aberhart's admission last Sunday that he had failed to pay Social Credit dividends in the eighteen months' time limit he set in the election campaign and which expired last Tuesday.

Appeals for Early Enactment of Bill Revamping Court

President Roosevelt Accuses Conservative Wing of Letting Economic Beliefs Govern Judicial Opinions—Denies Any Intention of Seeking Third Term in Highest Office

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP).—President Roosevelt celebrated his election triumph tonight with a new call to battle, a vigorous appeal for passage of his court reorganization bill to give the nation a clear "knowledge of what powers it has to serve its own citizens."

DISLIKE INSULT TO CHANCELLOR

Germany Protests Remarks Against Hitler Made by New York's Mayor

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP).—Germany complained to the United States today that Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York had insulted Adolf Hitler.

A representative of the German Embassy lodged a vigorous protest at the state department. Secretary Hull voiced an "informal expression of regret."

Speaking yesterday to the Women's Division of the American Jewish Congress, Mayor La Guardia suggested a "Chamber of Horrors" at the 1939 New York World Fair, to contain "a figure of that brown-shirted fanatic who is now menacing the peace of the world."

NOT VERY PENITENT

La Guardia said today of the protest: "They ought to protest. For I know of no artist or designer who can adequately paint or carve anything that will adequately depict either the personalities of the Nazi Government, Hitler himself, or the type of government he is giving."

Secretary Hull promised an immediate investigation. He indicated a formal expression of regret would be conveyed after published accounts of the address are officially verified.

KILLED IN COLLISION

BELLEVEILLE, Ont., March 4 (AP).—Two men were killed instantly and two others may die of injuries received when their motor car was struck by a Lindsay-bound freight train today at Corbyville level crossing, four miles north of here.

GRAVE DANGERS TO EUROPEAN PEACE SEEN IN POSTPONEMENT

Red Dragon of Wales Will Be At Coronation

LONDON, March 4 (AP).—The Welsh flag—a red dragon on a green field—will have its place in Coronation decorative schemes both in London and Wales as a result of a movement led by Will John, secretary of the Welsh Parliamentary Party. Three Welsh flags will be placed in Whitehall and the old emblem will also be displayed on 144 Government buildings in Wales.

Premier Is On Way to Washington

TORONTO, March 4 (AP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King talked with Premier Hephurn in the latter's offices at the Ontario Legislature today. "Just a friendly personal visit," the Premier said later. Mr. King was in Toronto en route to Washington for a week-end visit with President Roosevelt. Reports circulated the two Prime Ministers had discussed the St. Lawrence seaway project, with Mr. King reportedly seeking clarification of Ontario's attitude toward the seaway.

HOUSE PASSES BIG LOAN BILL

British Chancellor Explains Nation's Position Under League Covenant

LONDON, March 4 (AP).—The House of Commons tonight approved the bill to authorize the Government to borrow up to $400,000,000 ($2,000,000,000) over a five-year period for rearmament purposes. The bill now goes to the House of Lords.

A Labor amendment for rejection of the bill was defeated, 241 to 117. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said Britain's proposed rearmament was a necessary preliminary to disarmament.

NO LIABILITY

"We have no liability under the League Covenant to go with our military forces to the assistance of other countries who may be the victims of aggression," he said in concluding the debate for the Government.

"The Opposition," he said, "is always trying to read into the Covenant more than is to be found there."

"The phrase 'collective security' is constantly used as though if we only supported collective security we might save ourselves many armaments. In my opinion, it means not a decrease in armaments, but an increase."

Ice Jam Going Out at Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., March 4 (AP).—Niagara's great ice jam began breaking up today.

The water flow over the American Falls, which was partly dry yesterday, increased nearly to normal, and holes appeared in the ice sheet in the lower gorge. This sheet has been estimated to be forty to sixty feet thick.

Labor Again Proves Successful at Polls For Greater London

Another Three-Year Term of Administration of Civic Affairs Appears Certain After Heavy Vote—Little Change in Seats

LONDON, March 5 (AP).—Labor appeared early today to have won another three-year term as the Government of vast Greater London.

Returns in the London County Council election of yesterday showed at 2 a.m. (6 p.m., P.S.T., Thursday) that Labor had taken fifty-four seats, with forty going to the Municipal Reform Party made up of most of the groups opposing Labor.

The remaining thirty seats will be announced late today as counting was ended for the night. As little change took place in the ninety-four seats counted, it appeared certain that the Labor Administration, headed by Herbert Morrison, so-called "Prime Minister of London," had achieved victory.

International Non-Intervention Committee Abandons Deadline Set for Naval and Land Patrol to Keep Aid From Belligerents in Spain—Details Too Far From Complete

Uprising by German Minority In Czechoslovakia Is Feared

LONDON, March 4 (AP).—Indefinite postponement of the deadline for an international naval and land patrol of Spain raised the question tonight whether diplomats would be able to isolate possibly graver dangers to peace elsewhere in Europe.

FRANC TO BE STABILIZED

French Currency to Be Kept At Present Parity With Sterling and Dollar

PARIS, March 4 (AP).—Stabilization of the franc at its present parity with the pound sterling and the United States dollar is expected to be announced by the cabinet tomorrow, sources close to the Ministry of Finance said tonight.

The Governments, having sounded out the British and United States Governments, they said, will fix the rate at about 21.50 francs to the dollar and 105.15 francs to the pound.

TECHNICAL COMMITTEE

These sources added the cabinet also is expected to announce constitution of a technical committee, under chairmanship of Professor Charles Rist, economist and former vice-governor of the Bank of France, to work with the Ministry of Finance in coping with the economic and financial situation.

Vincent Auriol, Minister of Finance, conferred with the chairman of the finance committees of the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies on decrees to be approved at tomorrow's cabinet meeting.

ABILITY RECOGNIZED

Appointment of Professor Rist as head of the new technical committee, these sources asserted, was expected to improve confidence in financial quarters since he is recognized as an able financier.

The contemplated measure, it was said, would be aimed at restoring confidence, coaxing back an estimated $4,600,000,000 invested abroad, and loosening hoarded gold.

WRECKED BEFORE MAIDEN VOYAGE

Two Injured in Explosion on Cruising Yacht at Seattle When Taking Fuel

SEATTLE, March 4 (AP).—An explosion today wrecked the thirty-six-foot power cruiser Pandora, belonging to T. B. Morrison, of Anacortes, and injured two persons as the craft was being fueled for its maiden voyage.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison and A. E. Bean, mechanic, aboard the Pandora, were injured. Flying glass from the superstructure struck Roy Chase, an attendant at the dock, and John Corbett, working on his boat a few yards away.

Preliminary investigation attributed the blast to gasoline fumes.

RECEIVE AWARDS FOR BEST ACTING

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 4 (AP).—Louise Rainer tonight received the award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for the best performance by an actress in 1936 for her work in "The Great Ziegfeld." Paul Muni was voted the award for the best performance by an actor for his portrayal of the title role in "The Story of Louis Pasteur."

Blames Wheat Board For Loss of Millions By Prairie Farmers

Conservative Member Says Administration Under James R. Murray Has Cost Growers $50,000,000 Through Fire-Sale Policy on Wheat Surplus

OTTAWA, March 4 (P.)—Western farmers suffered a loss of from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 through operations of present wheat board headed by James R. Murray, according to E. E. Perley (Cons., Qu'Appelle), who spoke in the budget debate in the House of Commons today.

In a vigorous attack on administration of the Wheat Board Act under the present Government, Mr. Perley charged the board with a "crime against the producer" and claimed the farmers had been "betrayed, exploited, double-crossed and sacrificed."

AMOUNTS TO REPEAL
By refusing to purchase wheat at a fixed minimum price during the present crop year, the Government had practically repealed the Wheat Board Act, said Mr. Perley. It had appointed a Royal Commission who would not make a report until next session, but the Government should declare its policy now.

"The farmers mean to stick by the Wheat Board Act regardless of what the Turgon report may say," he said. "That act is here to stay. The farmers of Western Canada will not stand the skulduggery that took place last Summer with respect to the marketing of their wheat."

FIRE-SALE POLICY
From the day Mr. Murray took over chairmanship of the Wheat Board, he had pursued a fire-sale policy with respect to surplus wheat accumulated under the administration of the former chairman, John L. McFarland, said Mr. Perley.

Mr. Murray had determined to sell all the surplus and had initiated a policy British millers construed as an invitation to bid for Canadian wheat under the fixed price of eighty-seven and a half cents. As a result of that policy Canadian wheat had been bought for ten to fifteen cents a bushel less than would otherwise have been the case.

BANK OF ENGLAND NOW A FORTRESS

Hundreds Labor in Secret to Make "Old Lady's" Vaults Impregnable

LONDON (BUP).—Nine hundred men are toiling in secret to make the new Bank of England an impregnable fortress that will defy fire, flood, burglary and air bombardment.

No workman engaged on the job is allowed to give information concerning the new building, and bank officials have sealed lips.

Behind its stately facades the new bank contains many wonders. Fifty feet below street level are the world's strongest strong-rooms, capable of holding $750,000,000 in gold bullion. There are fifty underground faults, each surrounded by a wall of steel and concrete eight feet thick. Dynamite would be useless against them and heavy bomb attacks would not shake them.

Massive steel doors, guarding the entrances to the vaults, are opened and closed by electric power. In the event of invasion or any emergency, it would be possible to flood the vaults.

As a further precaution, the new bank has also its own electric power station.

VETERANS' UNIT NAMES OFFICERS

F. Dickson was re-elected president of the Veterans of France at their annual meeting last evening in the clubrooms, Douglas Street. J. Lowther was chosen first vice-president and J. J. Taylor was named second vice-president. A. C. Howard was elected treasurer and F. Cameron, sergeant-at-arms.

Members to the executive committee were chosen as follows: J. E. Robinson, P. Whitford, J. Taylor, J. Lowther, S. Hunter, J. McGee and A. E. Holmes.

A. C. Howard will be the delegate to the Remembrance Day committee.

Farmers Obtain Better Prices For Butterfat

Eastern farmers are obtaining 30 per cent more for their butterfat than they did two years ago, according to Charles H. Howell, vice-president of the Kraft-Phoenix Cheese Co., Ltd., of Montreal, who left the city yesterday. He entered in the Empress Hotel golf tournament, but was eliminated.

He declared the cheese industry was steadily improving. The company with which he is associated is a subsidiary of the famous Kraft organization. Production is about 9,000,000 pounds yearly. Total Canadian production of milk was estimated by the visitor to be in the neighborhood of 160,000,000 pounds annually.

Mr. Howell described methods of blending and declared it was done by touch and the sense of smell. Cheese containing too much lactic acid crumbles, but when it consists of a balanced mixture it retains a putty-like consistency, he said.

CREMATORIUM IS PLANNED

Royal Oak Burial Park Trustees May Erect $16,000 Concrete Building

Construction of a $16,000 reinforced concrete crematorium at Royal Oak Burial Park will be recommended to the councils of Victoria and Saanich, it was decided yesterday afternoon during a joint meeting of the finance committees of the city and Saanich with burial park trustees. Mayor Andrew McGavin presided. Those present felt that such a building had been a necessity for many years.

Under plans discussed at the meeting, burial park trustees would borrow $16,000 at 4 per cent from a Victoria businessman, and the councils of the city and Saanich would guarantee interest on bonds to be issued.

Permission to call for tenders in order to arrive at a definite figure of the cost will be sought at a meeting of the City Council next Monday. It will also come before the Saanich Council some time this month. Under the present arrangement, Royal Oak Burial Park is administered jointly by Victoria and Saanich.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

JAUNDICE MAY BE WITH OR WITHOUT DANGER

You have likely met friends or acquaintances suffering with jaundice who tell you that during a spell of mild weather they had to put on light underwear; the weather turned suddenly cold, and because the abdomen was not kept warm enough the attack of jaundice had occurred. Strange as it seems, this chilling of the abdomen is all that is necessary to cause symptoms in those with the tendency to jaundice.

Simple catarrhal jaundice occurs because the tube or duct carrying bile from the liver and gall bladder to the small intestine gets partly blocked because its lining gets inflamed. When any surface of the body—lining of the nose, throat, or bronchial tube—gets irritated and inflamed, liquid pours out to carry away whatever is causing the irritation.

What often happens when there are sudden changes of weather is that the upper end of the small intestine gets chilled and then inflamed; this inflammation in turn inflames the bile duct or tube carrying bile, and instead of flowing freely into intestine, some of it is absorbed into the blood and carried to all parts of the body. The bile carried to the skin gives it its yellowed or jaundiced appearance.

There is usually no temperature with simple catarrhal jaundice, but there is prostration; entire loss of appetite; some nausea; often vomiting; there is usually constipation but sometimes diarrhoea; the head feels dull, but real headache may be present; tongue coated; bad taste in mouth and bad breath. The stools become clay colored, showing lack of bile. The jaundice usually lasts two to four weeks. The old treatment of calomel and salts is still used. Liquid foods and avoidance of fat foods—cream, milk, butter, egg yolks—is diet treatment.

While jaundice or yellowing of the skin may be due to such simple causes as chilling, overeating, over-use of alcohol, which irritate or inflame and partially block the tube, it must be remembered that more serious conditions may be present and be causing the jaundice. There may be a gallstone blocking the duct, hardening of the entire lining, cancer, or other conditions present. Therefore, in every case of jaundice a physician should be consulted, because in serious "blockages" early operation is necessary. Delay of four or five days before operating greatly increases the danger to life.

Atlantic Air Mail Service Gradually Being Consolidated

Experimental Flights Over Northern Route This Year, But Regular Schedules Probably Still Year or More Away

LONDON, March 4 (A.P.)—An Atlantic air mail service, though not yet sufficiently advanced to permit announcement of inauguration date, seems gradually to be forging clear of fog and blueprints.

Some speak of experimental flights in May and a regular schedule by November. But more cautious authorities still speak in terms of a year or more. Imperial Airways and the British Air Ministry will not commit themselves.

Recent test flights around England and on British Empire mail routes have been highly satisfactory. But it is stressed that long-distance Atlantic flights cannot be measured by the mileage feats of overland planes.

The Imperial Airways giant flying boat Caledonia recently flew non-stop from Southampton to Alexandria, 2,300 miles, in thirteen hours and thirty-five minutes. She had a crew of five, half a ton of freight and averaged 170 miles an hour. She had considerable fuel to spare.

AROUND ISLANDS

This is 400 miles longer than the proposed Northern route from Western Ireland to Newfoundland. Then came a 1,300-mile non-stop flight of the Cambria around England, Scotland and Ireland, averaging about 160 miles an hour with seven on board. The trip was reported "pleasant and to schedule," and the plane was in constant contact with Croydon Airport.

These four-engined twenty-ton ships are the type Imperial Airways proposes to lead the way to regular Atlantic schedules. The Irish Free State is rushing work on the new air base at Ryanna at the mouth of the Shannon, to be used as the Eastern terminal with the best way of getting the heavily loaded craft off the water, including two notable schemes.

Refueling of the plane in the air by which is virtually a flying tank at the airbase, and the Mayo composite aircraft by which a heavily-loaded high-speed craft is launched from the back of a bigger flying boat during flight.

One Air Ministry official is spending considerable time on Atlantic steamships flying balloons to test the atmospheric conditions overhead, it having been found that ships cannot accurately report on conditions at flying altitude.

WILL CO-OPERATE

Arrangements between the Pan-American Airways and Imperial are not definitely known as to the Atlantic system, but the two lines will co-operate when the southern route to Bermuda is used and Imperial will thus be linked with the United States overseas system and the Pacific Ocean service. It is understood the Air Ministry would prefer to develop the all-British route via Newfoundland, although this offers obstacles in the winter months.

WOUND FATAL TO CITY MAN

Major H. M. McGivern Found Fatally Shot in His Home in Uplands

MAJOR H. M. MCGIVERN

Major Harold M. McGivern, thirty-seven, passed away at his residence, Cadboro Bay Road, The Uplands, at 2:20 yesterday morning from a bullet wound in his chest.

He was second in command of the First Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment; president of the Victoria Liberal Association, and was an architect by profession. Major McGivern had been in ill-health, and had not long been released from hospital.

He was discovered by his wife, wounded, shortly after 1 o'clock, with a .45 calibre revolver beside him. The bullet had entered his chest near the heart, and had passed through his body. It was later found by police, embedded in the pillow of the major's bed.

According to Oak Bay police, Major McGivern had attended a meeting Wednesday evening and returned about midnight. He went to his room, disrobed and lounged about in pyjamas.

Meanwhile, Mrs. McGivern stayed downstairs and prepared tea, awaiting the arrival of the housekeeper, Mrs. Dorothy Martin.

Later, when she went to her husband's room, Mrs. McGivern found him wounded. He lingered over an hour, conversing with her and with Dr. H. E. Ridewood, who arrived ten minutes before he passed away, and before he could be removed to hospital in the C. & C. ambulance, which had been called. The sound of the shot was not heard.

Chief John Syme and Sergeant H. F. Reston, of the Oak Bay Police, were called, and later, Coroner E. C. Hart was summoned.

An inquest will be held at the Haywards, Ltd., B.C. Funeral Co. parlors at 10 o'clock this morning.

A native of Ottawa, Major McGivern was the son of the late Hon. H. B. McGivern, former minister without portfolio in the Dominion Cabinet, who passed away here in February, 1931, and of Mrs. McGivern, who resides on Uplands Road.

WELL KNOWN HERE

He was widely known in this city, not only in business and politics, but in sporting and military circles. In 1918 he was a cadet in the Royal Air Force, and he continued his interest in military matters through his association with the Canadian Scottish.

Major McGivern was an able officer, and rose rapidly in the battalion, to become its second in command.

An architect by profession, he had designed many homes in Victoria, including that of his mother and his own. He was previously in partnership with Ralph Berrill, and was financially interested in other businesses.

He was deeply interested in yachting, Rugby, badminton and tennis. He arranged the appearance here of former tennis champions, and was active in his support of the Rugby team of the Scottish.

The remains were laid at rest in Colwood Burial Park, and the following acted as honorary pallbearers: Rev. J. H. Toole, Rev. S. Howard, Rev. F. W. Anderson, Rev. Dr. W. J. Sippell and Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson. The active pallbearers were Rev. James Hood, Rev. J. McKelvie, Rev. E. W. Horton, Rev. J. P. Hicks, Rev. S. Peat and Rev. F. W. McKinnon.

Surviving are his widow, two daughters and one son at the family residence, and his mother.

Police Instructed To Check Speeding Upon City Streets

What Today Means

If March 5 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m. from 6 to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

You must be practical this day, as well as reasonable, because if you are neither, life is apt to become very complicated for you. Someone probably will do something for you that will not only arouse your enthusiasm, but gratitude as well. Equivocation will only cause anyone resorting to it to become entangled in a confusion of thought, as well as an argument, so say whatever you have to in a straightforward fashion. Personal behavior will play an important part in this day's business affairs. You ought to feel full of vitality this day. A superabundance of energy is likely to prevail. You may be pleasantly surprised at the thoughtfulness of some relative or friend. General conditions ought to be very favorable for your personal interests, especially if economic problems have been troubling you. Married and engaged couples, as well as those whose courtships are progressing favorably, must be careful that irritation does not cause them to say something this day that will not only be tactless, but also unkind.

If a woman and March 5 is your birthday, you are probably a very emphatic type of person, accustomed to giving orders, but resent receiving of them. You are most likely, quick at grasping things, with a marked ability in copying anything you have once seen. You may have strong likes and dislikes. Books, art and music probably fascinate you. The chances are you are quick to resent injustice, with the result you may be frequently fighting the battles of those you consider as being treated unfairly. You ought to be a fine promoter, especially of charitable affairs. As a political leader, missionary, lecturer, purchasing agent, librarian or social welfare worker, your renown may pass beyond local bounds.

The child born on March 5 probably when it arrives at its teens, will astonish its relatives and friends by a sudden burst of intellectual growth. This youngster may eventually become quite a celebrity.

If a man and March 5 is your natal day, your popularity will be your greatest aid to success. You must be constantly on the alert so that others cannot take advantage of opportunities that are likely to be first presented to you. As a composer, musician, author, clergyman or traveler fame might come to you in some unusual manner.

raised in Northern Ireland. These and other new units will bring the army personnel, exclusive of the forces in India and Burma, to 168,900, as compared with 158,400 in 1936 and 186,400 in 1914.

Alfred Duff Cooper, Secretary for War, painted a somewhat gloomy picture of the recruiting situation, but said "certain measures" were in contemplation which he hoped would "lead to substantial and progressive amelioration of the position." He said mechanization had allowed a relaxation of standards of physical fitness in recruits, particularly in respect to defects of the feet. About 47,000 recruits will be required during the coming year.

FOURTEEN FACTORIES

The fourteen new munitions factories are to be built in various parts of the United Kingdom at a total cost of £7,946,000.

The duty of the air wardens, to be recruited by local authorities, will be to advise the populace on officially recommended precautions against air raids, assist in the distribution of civilian respirators and, in the event of war, play an active part in helping the public both during and after an air raid. One warden will be established to every 500 inhabitants in residential districts and one to every quarter-mile in industrial and business areas.

PATTULLO SPAN READY BY FALL

Efforts Made to Have Dominion Bear Half Cost of $4,000,000 Toll Project

Bridge engineers of the Province confirmed yesterday the fact that the new $4,000,000 toll bridge over the Fraser River at New Westminster will not be completed on schedule, due to approximately six weeks' delay through ice and frost on the river. Completion is now tentatively placed at October, subject to whatever progress is made this Summer.

So far as the public has been made aware, $2,000,000 has been borrowed by the Province to finance construction up to this year, leaving a further $2,000,000 to be found for full completion of the work.

SEEKING FEDERAL AID

Efforts are being made at Ottawa, it is believed, to have the Dominion contribute to the cost of the structure, on the ground that the bridge will be part of the Trans-Canada route in British Columbia.

Under other agreements, the Dominion is paying half of the cost of work on the Trans-Canada highway. Whether or not this assistance will extend to bridge spans is a point not yet cleared up.

TOLLS TO FINANCE

The cost of the bridge and its approaches will be within the $4,000,000 specified in the Bridge Act, the Government has declared. This cost, the Legislature was told, would be recouped by tolls levied on users of the structure, including Mainland motorists and Fraser Valley producers seeking outlets in the Coast market.

Some agitation for the removal of tolls has already been heard, but is discredited in Provincial circles. The new span will be known as the Pattullo bridge, the Cabinet suggested last Fall.

LARGE CONGREGATION AT FINAL RITES FOR REV. CHARLES BISHOP

A large congregation of friends attended funeral services for the late Rev. Charles Bishop yesterday afternoon at the Metropolitan United Church.

The many beautiful floral tributes received testified to the very high esteem in which Mr. Bishop was held by all with whom he was associated.

Those officiating included Arthur Lee, chairman of the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church; Rev. E. P. Church, Rev. W. R. Brown and Rev. J. W. Churchill. Two hymns were sung, "We Cannot Think of Those as Dead" and "For All the Saints." Mrs. Edward Parsons rendered as a solo, "Sunset and Evening Star."

The remains were laid at rest in Colwood Burial Park, and the following acted as honorary pallbearers: Rev. J. H. Toole, Rev. S. Howard, Rev. F. W. Anderson, Rev. Dr. W. J. Sippell and Rev. Dr. W. G. ### DEFENCE OF CANADA

Senator C. C. Ballantyne has been urging in the Senate that the delegates from this country to the coming Imperial Conference should seek an assurance from Great Britain that Canada's sea coasts and trade routes will be protected in the event of another war. There is, of course, not the least necessity to seek this assurance. The increased naval vote in the British Parliament is for Imperial defence, and Canada will be protected as well as other parts of the Empire. Mr. Ballantyne no doubt spoke as he did to give emphasis to the inadequacy of the naval vote in the defence provisions for the Dominion. He is right in saying that were Canada attacked it would not be by land or air but by the sea, and it is axiomatic that whatever the country should do for defensive purposes, or rather what it should do chiefly, is to strengthen its naval forces.

It is the unwritten law of Empire that Great Britain defends Imperial trade routes. It is, as well, the unwritten law that she brings by far the greatest contribution to the defence of the coastlines of the Overseas Dominions. It was so in the case of the Great War. That struggle should have taught the Dominions a lesson, and particularly Canada, for her Pacific seaboard was threatened, and the threat was only removed finally by the destruction of Admiral von Spee's squadron in the battle of the Falkland Islands. This country, however, has only improved her naval defences in an infinitesimal way. Her vulnerability remains as it was. That is why Senator Ballantyne, when he sees that Canada is doing so little for defensive purposes, seeks an assurance from Great Britain that she will, in the past, guard Canadian shores and the seaways of Canadian commerce. It would, however, be a work of supererogation for Mr. Mackenzie King and his colleagues at the forthcoming Imperial Conference to ask Great Britain to do what she has done in the past, what she is doing and what she will continue to do.

CIVIL LIBERTY

Dr. K. C. MacDonald, the Provincial Minister of Agriculture, says: "If we in British Columbia can't make laws in respect of property and civil rights, who can?" He was alluding to the intention of the Provincial Government to go on enforcing the Natural Products Marketing Act. Dr. MacDonald must know, however, that the duty of a Government is to protect civil liberty as well as civil rights, and that liberty is being impugned by regimentation under the Marketing Act. Under that legislation it is no longer lawful for a man to do what he will with his own. That is, therefore, a challenge to civil liberty.

As the courts have already ruled, the Marketing Act is an invasion of the political constitution. The power of the British Columbia Legislature is limited by the forms and principles of the political constitution under which it operates; it should be limited as well by the general rules of natural justice. Under the Marketing Act there is a process of slavery to a system. Producers forfeit their rights to sell of their own volition in the open market. There is the principle at stake of the right of an individual to dispose of the products of his labor to his own best advantage. He has to delegate to others that right, and he is thereby dispossessed of civil liberty to that extent.

It is in the dispossession of civil rights that Dr. MacDonald claims the Province should have power to legislate. There is compulsion affecting property rights, as well, under the Marketing Act. It is a regimenting process, and to any process of that character opposition is bound to develop. There will always be those who will dislike Dr. MacDonald's conception of interference with the right of a producer to do what he will with what he has produced. There should be freedom of trade within the Province.

NEUTRALITY

Mr. Bernard M. Baruch, a member of the American Council of Defence in 1916 and chairman, first of the Committee on Raw Materials and later of the War Industries Board, may be supposed to have acquired an extensive knowledge of those war-time activities which are forgotten or are overlooked in peace, and also to have formed some definite opinions regarding neutrality. He should be in a position to know what it is possible for a country to do in order to keep out of the wars of other people. Accordingly, Mr. Baruch has written a brief essay on the subject in the March Atlantic. He believes that neutrality is "the most important word in the world today." He believes also that the American people are very anxious to keep out of war, and determined to remain neutral, if at all possible, if war should unfortunately break out. He adds that while this is true, while the Americans are emphatic and nearly unanimous in this sentiment and desire, they are by no means in agreement as to what a neutral country must do or must avoid doing in order to preserve its neutrality.

The question of neutrality has been discussed in various quarters in Canada and no doubt an expert opinion, such as Mr. Baruch is competent to give, should prove interesting on this side of the line. The proposals which have been made in the United States relating to neutrality include the following: It has been suggested that it would be proper for a neutral to trade only with the innocent party in war, but not with the aggressor. It has been proposed by others that a neutral should sell nothing at all to a nation at war. A third proposal is to sell no war material to anybody.

Now, which of these policies is the belligerent nation likely to regard as being of a friendly character? Clearly, if a "neutral" nation takes the line that it will trade only with the innocent party and decides that A is the aggressor and B the innocent party, such neutral nation thereby ceases to be neutral. It has taken sides and must be prepared to incur the displeasure of the country it has declared to be the aggressor. Much the same can be said of the proposal to sell nothing to any nation at war. Such an act might seriously imperil the safety of a nation fighting for its life, and would almost certainly be regarded as an unfriendly act. In fact refusing to sell war material to any warring state, though it could be defended on the ground that the neutral nation in so acting is treating everyone alike, might mean an advantage to one party and a disadvantage to another. One warring state may have arms factories while another has none. This was the case in the conflict between Italy and Ethiopia. A belligerent country involved in a death struggle with a powerful enemy is not likely to pay much attention to mere professions of neutrality. It will scrutinize with deep concern the acts of any neutral and may protest against these acts as unfriendly.

An unwise policy of trade may lead a neutral nation into war, but Mr. Baruch is of opinion that no nation ever got embroiled in a war by mere selling. The question of selling or not selling is, he thinks, wholly irrelevant. The danger arises not from selling but from shipping the goods. Therefore he would sell anything, except munitions, to anybody who has the money and pays cash. He would lend money to no belligerent and he would not deliver goods save at the home ports. The buyer must take delivery there and carry the goods away in his own ships.

ILLEGAL PICKETING

Does the Provincial Government approve of the practice of Mainland farmers picketing the bridge heads leading to Vancouver, and regard them as allies in the attempt to stop so-called "bootlegging" of potatoes? The question calls for an answer. Evidently the picketing is being allowed, which would seem to indicate that the farmers involved will also be allowed to take the law into their own hands and use forcible measures against those who evade the Provincial Marketing Act. If, however, a case comes up in court arising out of force being employed by private individuals in this way it will not be difficult to forecast the outcome. The Provincial Government should not be a party in any way, even in a passive sense, to such picketing. It has the agency of law in its own hands and needs no assistance to enforce it.

There is a very serious aspect to the dispute that has arisen on the Mainland over the operation of the Marketing Act. It is that of engendering an anti-Oriental feeling which could easily lead to unpleasant results, and this is a matter in which the Provincial Government should hold the scales of justice even. So long as it believes its Marketing Act is intra vires of British Columbia it has the power to enforce it and the place to enforce it is in the courts, by prosecutions, wherever it is believed there have been infractions. It is not a matter in which the farmers should be permitted to take the law into their own hands. The picketing system is exceedingly dangerous on an occasion of this kind and should be put an end to by the Provincial Government.

NO TIME TO WASTE

Manitoba has tried heavy taxation, and many economy measures, but the province and municipalities are in both in desperate straits. The other provinces are an even more desperate condition. They should at least have the opportunity of stating their case before the new commission. Then Parliament should be able to take some intelligent action. Of course, the question of conflicting jurisdiction is bound to arise, and once again the necessity for overhauling our constitution becomes evident, but the crisis is so important that immediate action is essential.—London Free Press.

NO HORNS BLOWING

Far from this shore, and no rocketed buoy tolling, A vision rises strong as waves of the sea,
A memory salt with spray of breakers rolling
And feel of fog on the hair where no fog can be.
Back to this shore, back to the fog-horns blowing,
To the lighthouse succoring ships and sailor men,
In thought I come, wherever I am going,
And love of the sea will make it real again,
Fog in the harbour and blowing salt on the lips
Are always fresh in the mind that would follow ships.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

"The story of Oliver Twist, in which Charles Dickens used a vocabulary of 5,000 words, has been retold with 900 words of easy English in a marionette show prepared by the WPA Federal Theatre Project for foreigners and semi-literate audiences," stated an item in The New York Times recently. Perhaps marionette shows are different, but one suspects that Dickens will not be successfully rewritten either by the Works Progress Administration or by our illustrious neighbor or by any one else. Just to give a sample of how "easy" the WPA found the task of rewriting a master, the following comparison was quoted. First the original lines of Dickens, thus: "Dear me, dear me (said Mr. Sowerberry) I wish I wasn't always being interrupted in the middle of my meal." This has been changed by the WPA to: "Someone always wants to see me when I'm eating." Dickens did not say that anyone was anxious to see Mr. Sowerberry eating, or to see anyone else eating. He said that the undertaker complained of being interrupted at his meals, which was a natural and understandable complaint. If the WPA can do this to Dickens, what could they not do to, say, the Constitution of the United States? No, Dickens belongs to the world and to immortality. Leave his words alone!

Walter L. Fry, president, general manager and chief salesman of the Fry Products Company, of Detroit, was faced with a sit-down strike by 142 women employees last week, according to Eastern dispatches. Mr. Fry philosophically took a camp cot into his own office and held a sit-down strike by himself. "I work twenty-four hours a day at this business, and I feel that labor owes me a little something—but if they won't work for me, I won't work for them. Last year we showed a profit of only $32,000 on $750,000 worth of business. I am going to stay here; that is, unless I am ejected from my own plant." Mr. Fry declared. Both sides were sitting down at last report, but there seems to be a catch to it somewhere.

The motion picture industry is improving. "One in a Million," featuring Sonja Henie at a local theatre this week, gave pleasure to large numbers of people, and did not have a single objectionable feature, in my humble opinion. The exhibition of skating was unique and thrilling. Moreover, this result came without the use of any lurid situations, without any gangster play, revolvers, or cocktails, and in a thoroughly wholesome manner. One film does not make a revolution; but there have been other films recently portraying a growth of mind on the part of those who plan and produce motion pictures. Subtleties are coming back into acting; over-stressing a part is on the wane; and cheap exhibitionism seems to be on the way out, perhaps for good. Let us encourage this change. Who knows, perhaps, one day we will have seen the very last of even film newspapermen who act like inebriates and thugs; of film flyers who consume absurd quantities of liquor and who are shown as maudlin love-pirates as well; and of a society which has been represented as dressing entirely in evening clothes and making a precarious living by furling someone else into melodramatic trouble. The screen has exceptional opportunities for drama, tragedy and comedy; opportunities which in the past have been largely thrown away by buffoonery and amazingly maudlin characterization. I for one trust that "One in a Million" is the beginning of a brighter day for the silver screen, and not just one good show out of the thousands produced.

When there is beauty, decency, courage, ability and self-denial to choose from, why look in the gutter and night clubs for plots? At an initial cost of $250,000, a great trans-Atlantic air base is being erected in Newfoundland, under the direction of the Imperial Airways, and other British interests. Work has been in progress for nearly a year, and is now being stepped up towards early completion. Newfoundland has been the jumping-off place for west-to-east flights for nearly two decades, and will be a definite and permanent port of call on the Empire air route. The site is at Hattie's Camp, forty miles northwest of St. John's, and about ten miles from Botwood. There, seaplane and flying boat operations will be tied in with the Canadian link of a globe-encircling chain. Air communication, and its attendant air commerce, may do more to bring world peoples together than any other single development except wireless in the last century. When the world knows the world misunderstandings will disappear.

I won't tell his name, because that might further embarrass him, but will simply say that a man who recently kissed the Blarney Stone was kissed by a strange woman in public down East the other day. He blushed a fine, rosy pink. The woman did not blush. It all happened at a banquet, where the blushing one was congratulated by a group of his friends, and unblushingly kissed by the president of some women's auxiliary. This emancipation business has gone quite far enough. Society reporters will soon be referring to the "blushing groom!"

CADBOROSAURS

Sir,—In September, 1928 or 1929, I personally reported through The Colonist or Times, sighting a mysterious monster in Puffin Harbor along with J. Rogers, of Salt Spring Island, in which I stated it raised its head and neck twice, six feet out of the water, with head like a sheep and neck a water thick.

At the same time the mail man came across with a launch, and stated the residents had also seen some mysterious monster. There should be a record in one of the local papers in the name of Ogo-pogo at that time.

Sir,—Your obituary notice of the above, omitted to say that the rector was sub-lieut. on board H.M.S. Sparrowhawk in 1901 and was promoted to commander in 1914. His last report speaking of his work amongst Indians in the Alert Bay district says:

"The love for their church by the natives here was shown by their work by their own hands—for the proceeds of which they gave $580 to the church apportionment fund (whatever that is)."

DRAMA FESTIVAL

Sir,—I wonder whether the drama committee promoters could arrange to start at 7:15 p.m. and so give those of us who have not a car and who live too far out to take a taxi to see the last play and catch the 11:30 p.m. bus. Otherwise, what with Capt. Thorpe Double's speech and the time the Little Theatre takes to arrange its scenery, we shall have to miss the last play, as was the case last year. Maybe, Capt. Thorpe Double could give his address in the intervals. I am very interested in dramatics, but if we have to miss the adjudication again this year, we shall not go again.

APPRECIATION

Sir,—It would indeed seem a glaring oversight, if not ingratitude, if in some way we did not publicly acknowledge appreciation of the splendid public service rendered this city for the past ten years by our employee, Miss Walker, policeman.

Through the resignation of Miss Walker we lose one whose untiring efforts have been to protect and help women and children. The results of her work have been most gratifying to all interested citizens, more especially to those who had occasion to know Miss Walker in her public work.

The special work may never know what a debt of gratitude is due Miss Walker, not only as a public servant having performed her arduous duties well, but for much self-sacrifice in work accomplished outside hours of duty. Fortunately we are not to lose Miss Walker, as her good influence will remain in the same channels of law and order for which Victoria citizens in general are very grateful.

In closing, may I extend heartfelt thanks for effective service rendered our city and with the very best of good wishes for Miss Walker in her new sphere.

"Of course," answered Miss Cayenne. "But you don't always know when to do with a perfectly good opinion. You can enjoy the lonely satisfaction of writing it on a postcard and mailing it to a radio station."

In Unity, Strength

There is too much sectionalism on this Island for its own good, and its own future benefit. Though, of course, it is one geographic whole, there are those who still maintain the problems that are Victoria's are not those of Courtenay, Port Alberni or Nanaimo. Yet it cannot be denied that what aids Nanaimo aids in greater or lesser degree Ladysmith and Duncan, Courtenay and Qualicum, and even adds to the greater prosperity of this city. In that connection it was refreshing to chronicle the remarks of Mayor John Barsby of Nanaimo, who recently said: "The tourist business of the Upper Island and Victoria is interlocked and one is dependent on the other." A republic found out many years ago that in unity there is strength, but Vancouver Island has yet to discover and apply the axiom—B.G.

How Is Your English?

Ben Bernie, who has become more or less of an institution in all homes possessing a radio, will part company, the middle of this month, with "All the Lads." Bernie's innate chatter to the accompaniment of his band, has inspired some listeners-in and driven others almost to hysteria. However, the Old Maestro will not sever his relations with the air. He plans to devote all his time to broadcasting and motion picture work. Well, maybe he won't go over so well without the very capable support of his twenty-one musicians—W.F.P.

How Is Your English?

Gems we picked up at a recent labor meeting: "They are putting up placards in 'conspicuous' places." "They put me on a committee for the 'hosing' scheme." Aubrey informed us many of his friends are unable to pick up KSL, Salt Lake City, on their radio sets because of CRVC increased power. Our set is a well-used 1934 model, but we experience absolutely no interference between the two stations. Not long ago in Saanich a soda water truck caught fire and was speedily extinguished by the capable fire department. Early this week the time came to repay a good deed. While the pop wagon was making its rounds, the driver spotted a sedan on fire. He soon exhasted the spot and with half a dozen soda water siphons . . . Perched in a front seat on her way to the office in a street car, a member of the social department was surprised to find the tram stopping outside a store for no apparent reason. The motor man opened the doors as a clerk dashed out of the shop. The clerk tossed an orange which the motor man deftly caught, and the tram went merrily on its way. Not long after the same reporter was dashing off to a wedding in a bus when her attention was attracted by a small child who chattered away with an endless stream of questions and comment on passengers. When a woman carrying a tiny Pekinese dog rose to leave, the child remained silent for a few seconds. Finally she burst: "Oh, mummy, look at the funny little dog. It has no nose, practically."—G.B.

Some Golf Gossip

That old adage, "That the medalist rarely survives match play," lived up to its reputation on Wednesday at the Oak Bay Golf Club when Freddy Painter, young George Vale shotmaker, and Miss Jane Watter, Victoria Club, were among the day's casualties when caddy settees over the sport eight-hole layout. Painter had to concede eleven strokes to W. C. Fisher, Calgary, and found the handicap far too much to overcome. . . . Golfing stories came fast and thick in the press room during late afternoon—Alex Rose, veteran Seattle sport writer, and A. V. Macan, one of the best authorities on the game in these parts, started it. Then Harold Brynjolfsson stepped in with a few facts, while Bill Steedman, Seattle Times, told some true facts about past P.N.W. tournaments, and Phil Taylor, Oak Bay professional, also held the floor. Phil still thinks that McLarnin will beat the tar out of a chap named Ross when they meet again. . . . That story Macan told about the "casual water" incident was a peach. . . . Alex Rose tells me that Bon Steip, former well-known Seattle amateur shotmaker, is in Detroit and doing very well for himself. . . . Bon won the Detroit city title not so long ago, which means that he is right back in the thick of the golfing wars once more after a long lay-off. . . . Nick Ferris, veteran official at the Empire tourney, is hoping that the Peden brothers win that New York bike race. Nick saw his first race back in the nineties in New York where one rider did all the pedalling. . . . The scribes are really enjoying themselves at the club, and they think that Oak Bay dishes out hospitality with the best of them in the Northwest.—J.D.

HIS MISTAKE

The sergeant was putting a squad of recruits through some physical jerks. "Left foot, raise," he commanded.

All the men obeyed except one, who raised his right foot. The sergeant looked along the line and shouted: "That nitwit with both feet up—put one down."

SHAKY

Betty (just engaged)—Doris, can you imagine what it is like to be in love, to sit next to the man you adore, and feel your very innermost soul vibrate?

Doris—Of course, my dear. I feel like that every time Joe takes me out in his old car.

NEW LINE OF FRIGIDAIRE INTRODUCED

Dealers Meet at Empress Hotel to See Models and Hear Talks

To signalize the formal presentation of the 1937 Frigidaire and to hear the outline of the sales programme for the coming season, Frigidaire dealers gathered at the Empress Hotel early this week. The convention was opened by B. P. Schwengers, local manager for McLennan, McFeely & Prior Ltd., the speakers being J. E. McCormack, manager of the appliance department, McLennan, McFeely & Prior, Vancouver, and Mr. Garlick, representative of the Frigidaire Corporation, from Toronto.

Among those present were J. A. Knight, from Ladysmith; Colin Mout, of Ganges; Mr. McAdams, representing the Cowichan Merchants, Duncan; together with the majority of the staff from McLennan, McFeely & Prior, Ltd. in Victoria.

The new Frigidaire line was presented to the assembly in dramatic fashion. After the introduction of the speakers by Mr. Schwengers, curtains were drawn to reveal the complete line, artistically arranged on the platform, flanked by pretty girls in page costumes to point out the salient features. The talks were illustrated by the showing of motion picture reels dealing with the advanced improvements found in Frigidaire.

This year Frigidaire has surpassed its own record in making an automatic refrigerator a real home utility, rather than a luxury. Five points are stressed, and to describe them the following phrases have been coined: "Greater protect-ability," "Greater ice-ability," "greater storage ability," "greater dependability" and "greater save-ability." These do not refer to specific features of Frigidaire, but have been chosen to designate basic services which no single feature can provide.

The small but powerful refrigerating mechanism found in Frigidaire has been built on a principle which permits an almost unbelievable economy of operation and this has led to its name, "The Meter-Miser." The outcome of long scientific research, it has resulted in inherent dependability, together with quiet, trouble free operation which will give satisfaction over years of service.

The 1937 Frigidaire has solved completely the problem of releasing ice cubes and trays when ice is needed, eliminating the necessity of melting the ice free no matter how tightly frozen it may be.

Added to the features of economy, reliability and simplicity, Frigidaire scores in perfection of design. Careful planning, with the practical needs of the housewife ever in mind, has produced a cabinet which offers the greatest possible storage space with not one inch wasted. A small precision instrument insures that the temperature of the new Frigidaire be kept at just that degree of coldness best suited to the protection of perishable goods.

The housewife does not need to open the door to be certain of this, the indicator shows instantly the temperature inside the cabinet.

Designed to meet the needs of the small home as well as the large, the 1937 Frigidaire sets a new standard of value in the refrigeration field.

CLUBMEN HEAR TWO SPEAKERS

Vocational Service From Standpoint of Buyer and Seller Considered

The main feature of the Rotary Club luncheon, held yesterday in the Empress Hotel, was a discussion of the relations between buyers and sellers in business. The matter fell under the charge of S. M. Armstrong, who is chairman of the vocational service committee.

The speakers were Colonel H. E. Goodman, of the Coast Hardware Company, and C. H. Ireland, Vancouver Island representative of the Canadian General Electric Company.

Colonel Goodman spoke from the standpoint of the buyer, and Mr. Ireland from that of the seller. In times like this, it was important, said Colonel Goodman, that one should buy well. The buyer must inform himself upon what to buy and to keep abreast of the needs so that he could serve the clients that came to the store.

He did not believe that the popular impression held in some quarters that chain stores, etc., had spell ruin for the independent retailer. The latter must, however, keep abreast of the times and thus give good personal service. The local conditions must be studied and purchasing must be done at prices to suit the buyer. It was not wise to court special prices. The store should be strangled for quick sellings.

Mr. Ireland contended that the seller should base his business on a scientific foundation. Salesmen could not afford to fall down in their work. They must retain the confidence of the buyers. It was not wise to attempt to try to fool the buyer. This could not be done with any great chance of success. Once the confidence of a buyer was secured, there was a large part of the task before the seller accomplished.

Mr. Ireland advised taking the buyer into one's confidence and showing him how he could make money by the purchases suggested. It was necessary to know one's merchandise if this was to be done. He advised endeavoring to help buyers out of difficulties that they might have encountered.

SAANICH MILL RATE STRUCK

No Increase in Taxation—Raise Made in Certain Salaries

The Saanich Council, at a special meeting last evening, set a tax rate of 42 mills on the dollar, in accordance with estimates already accepted, and raised the salary of six employees approximately five dollars each monthly.

The new tax rate, though similar to that of last year, differs in that there is a reduction in the mill rate for general purposes and an increase for school purposes. In 1936 there was an assessment for general purposes of 23.8 mills. This year it is 25.6 mills. The school rate is 16.4 mills, compared to 15.2 last year. In addition there is the usual levy on 20 per cent of assessed improvements.

Certain salaries were raised after remuneration paid all municipal employees with more than five years' service had been considered. A 5 per cent increase in salaries of those affected would have meant an additional monthly expenditure of $155.50, while a 50 per cent restoration of pay cuts which were made in 1931 would have amounted to $218.69.

The council considered an amendment to the Woodyard By-law, which gives the municipality authority to grant temporary licences to operate such businesses. No one may, however, operate beyond the period fixed without first obtaining permission from the council.

Councillor G. A. Austin was named to accompany Charles Grant, of the municipal staff, to Seattle and Blaine to view steam shovels in operation. Saanich has set aside the sum of $7,500 to purchase a shovel similar to those now being used at these points.

Mrs. R. B. Dunn Passes Away

Mrs. Mary Isabel Dunn, wife of Robert B. Dunn, 437 Stannard Avenue, passed away yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital. She was born in Whitby, Ont., seventy-four years ago, and came to Victoria forty-five years ago from Toronto.

Mrs. Dunn is survived by her husband; four daughters, Miss Alice Dunn, at home; Mrs. R. C. Plevins, Victoria; Mrs. Douglas Stratton and Mrs. Gus Silvers, Vancouver; one son, Alan, residing in Alameda, Cal.; and two sisters, Mrs. William Dee and Mrs. F. J. Merton, in this city.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Rev. Canon Stocken will officiate and interment will be made in Colwood Burial Park.

PLEAD GUILTY IN CITY COURT HERE

Joe Filponi, Fred McKay and Dave McKay, arrested here on Wednesday, were charged in the city police court yesterday with having retained possession of certain jewelry and other articles of more than the value of $50, taken from the home of David MacKie, Nanaimo.

With them appeared also James Kenton, charged likewise with possession of a ring belonging to Mr. MacKie.

They all elected summary trial before the police magistrate and entered pleas of guilty.

On the request of C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, a remand was

FILM STARS ALICE MOORE

Hollywood Party Here for Production of Movie At Willows

Alice Moore, brunette and lovely, will be the leading lady in "Women Against the World," seventh film to be made in this city by Central Films, Ltd., on which production commences Monday.

She came ashore from the St. Iroquois yesterday morning together with Collette Lyons, comedienne; David Selman, director; William "Seotly" Brown, assistant director; and Harry Forbes, cameraman.

Miss Moore, whose last picture was Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Old Hutch," is visiting Canada for the first time, and has looked forward not only to her visit here, but to playing the part in the film, despite the fact that she describes it as "terribly tragic."

FIRST TRIP HERE
Miss Lyons is blonde, vivacious. She, too, is visiting Victoria for the first time, though she is no stranger to Vancouver, and played on the stage in Toronto six years ago. Her Pekingese, Buttons, given to her while she was in the Eastern city, was glad of a run when the party landed after two days on the boat. Miss Lyons' last picture was "Dance, Charlie, Dance." It has not yet been released.

David Selman, director, made pictures here last summer, and remarked that he appreciated the opportunity of a return visit.

Mr. Brown, his assistant, who served with the Royal Canadian Rifles in the Great War, was first assistant director to Cecil B. De Mille in "The Crusades." He has filled in the same position in all Mae West's pictures, and in "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," "My Man Godfrey," starring William Powell; Bing Crosby's "Anything Goes," and "The Magnificent Brute."

MET BY PRODUCER
Mr. Forbes, chief cameraman for "Women Against the World," was here last year, and declared he was glad to be back.

The party was met by Kenneth J. Bishop, president and producer. All are staying at the Dominion Hotel, where they were welcomed by Herb Eicke, sound technician; Jack Hayes, assistant soundman; James Lloyd; Mrs. Austin, business manager, and William Beckway, assistant cameraman, who has been associated with Mr. Bishop in all his productions.

Several of the sets have already been constructed at the Willows. The biggest of all, which is to be made for the courtroom scene, is being held until the director's advice is procured.

Ralph Forbes, who is to be starred in the production, will arrive here next week.

Sally: "Please, ma'am, I can't find that broom."
Mrs. Shipshape: "Haven't I told you often enough to have a place for everything, and everything in its place?"
Sally: "Yes, ma'am, I did that, but I've lost the place."

City and District

French Magazine—Contributors to this week's issue of The French Magazine, published by the French Club of Victoria High School, were Philip Musgrave, Betty Muncy, H. Craven, Peggy Lowe and Phyllis Stewart. A meeting of the club will be held next Monday afternoon.

Life Underwriters' Meeting—The regular monthly meeting of the Victoria and Vancouver Island Life Underwriters' Association will be held in Spencer's dining-room today at 12 noon, when H. Despard Twigg will speak on the subject "Life Underwriters and the Problem of Vancouver Island."

Payne for the monthly concert of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, under the auspices of the band in their auditorium, this evening, at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be served, and members, their wives and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Pay Dues to City—In city police court yesterday, fifteen non-payers of their licence fees for the current six months had the charges withdrawn, having in the meantime paid the amounts due. In connection with poll and dog taxes, three had paid their fees and had the charges withdrawn, while seven were given a week's remand to allow them to pay.

Peremptory Date—Kenneth Webster, charged with having broken and entered the store of R. S. Hawkes for the purpose of committing an indictable offence, had his case adjourned again yesterday in city police court until Monday next. The accused said that he had had no word from his counsel and accordingly Monday was set as a peremptory date for the hearing.

Get-Together Tonight—All arrangements have been completed for the big initial get-together of the Y.M.C.A., which will be held this evening from 7.30 o'clock until midnight. Some fine prizes have been secured for the bridge games and dancing will continue from 9 until 12 o'clock.

Addresses Pupils—The Grade VII pupils of North Ward School were addressed recently by Mrs. D. L. MacLennan, a member of the board of school trustees, who once taught at North Ward School. She awarded the prizes to Sybil Lee, Mary Mark, Thomas Eng and David Leong for the Victoria Hobby Fair posters which were judged and criticized by Miss A. Baxter, supervisor of arts for the elementary schools of Victoria.

Find Old Visitors' Book—Discovery of the old visitors' book of the West Saanich School, dating from 1882, was reported by Trustee William Tomes at last evening's meeting of the Saanich School Board. The book, besides containing many interesting signatures, has a record of rolls of honor awarded over a period of years, and reports of old-time public examinations, the trustee said. It will be given to Robert Brydon, secretary of the board, who will see that it is properly bound.

Appointment Made—The appointment of Captain George Kermack, Winnipeg, by the Canadian Legion at Ottawa as an assistant officer for the Imperials in Canada, will be of interest to Victorians who served in the Imperial Army during the Great War. Captain Kermack's duties will include the responsibility of collecting information in regard to problems of Imperial Veterans and to assist Dominion headquarters in processing claims for general assistance.

Changing Medical Officers—At three points in the province yesterday the Government rescinded the appointment of medical health officers and school health inspectors, and put fresh appointees in their place. Dr. G. G. Ferguson replaces Dr. M. F. Lucas at McBride. Dr. R. Haugen replaces Dr. G. B. Helem at Enderby. Dr. J. M. Hershey replaces Dr. J. C. Sull at Pouce Coupe, with charge over sixty-five school districts in the Peace River block.

Hindu Pachyderm Will Oppose McDonald Tomorrow

At Tillicum Gymnasium

Harnam Singh, latest addition to the small army of Hindu pachyderms now appearing in North America, will be given his first real test since arriving in Canada, tomorrow evening at the Tillicum gymnasium.

The powerful 225-pound East Indian matman has been matched with "Wildman" McDonald, Medford, Oregon grappler, in the semi-wind-up of the weekly mat show.

Singh made his first appearance last week in an exhibition fixture with Louie Newman, Victoria heavyweight, while McDonald grappled here three weeks ago and gained a draw with Joe Mallory, New York.

Harry Kent, Portland's gift to the bone-bending pastime, and Sailor Arnold, colorful Bostonian, will match holds in the eight ten-minute round main event. Kent is fast, clever and has a damaging flying tackle. Arnold is a clean, colorful performer and should work nicely with the Portlander.

"Bull" Elk, another newcomer, will appear in the special event of five six-minute rounds. He will show against Louie Newman, local matman.

The usual local curtain raiser will open the show at 8:30 o'clock.

W.A. Members Hear Address By Missionary

Stories told with sympathy and understanding, based on eighteen years' experience in the mission field, touched the hearts of members of the Columbia W.A. who heard the address given last evening in the Memorial Hall by Miss Isaac, mission worker from the diocese of mid-Japan.

Miss Isaac prefaced her discourse with interesting remarks regarding present trends in the industrial and religious fields of that country, where political unrest, the problem of the support of the rapidly increasing population and rumors of war were in direct contrast to its natural beauty.

RELIGIOUS BILL

During recent years many new religions had sprung up, some of which had been forbidden by the Government. A religious bill was soon to come before the Japanese Diet which would define those religions which were to be permitted. Christianity was among the "allowable" religions, Miss Isaac said.

She gave intimate details regarding the mission work, the kindergartens, the mothers' meetings, cooking classes, young men's and high school girls' classes and Bible reading groups which came under the direction of her mission in Toyohashi. It was by means of the kindergartens and by newspaper evangelism that the knowledge of Christianity was widely increased.

COMBAT COMMUNISM

A challenge was before the church, Miss Isaac said, in conclusion, and it behooved all who professed and called themselves Christians to do all in their power to combat the forces of Communism and to work with greater zeal to spread the teaching of Christianity.

Rev. Alan Gardiner was in the chair and introduced Miss Isaac, to whom, after her address, Lady Lake expressed the thanks of the W.A. and presented her with a bouquet of Spring flowers.

After the meeting, the Diocesan officers were hostesses at an informal reception when the W.A. members had an opportunity of meeting Miss Isaac during the serving of refreshments.

Students Heard In Programme

A large and appreciative audience of parents and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Gladys M. Hick, L.R.S.M., 1409 Hillside Avenue, Wednesday evening, the occasion being a piano-forte recital by her students. An attractive programme of solos, duets and trios was given. A very good touch and intelligent interpretation was displayed throughout, many of the pupils being outstanding in their performance.

The performers were: Dorothy Cross, Frances Rowell, George Geddie, Elaine Province, Sasha Angus, Laura Severs, Grace Rowell, Marguerite Fawcett, Viola Wain, Helen Price, Patty Payne, Beverly Price, Irene Tait, Mary McBain, Marjorie Olton, Catherine Angus, Bernard Hick, Elizabeth Angus, Phyllis Hick, Thelma Reynolds and Peggy Sedgman.

Prizes were awarded by Mrs. Hick for excellent work during 1936 to Peggy Sedgman, Elizabeth Angus, Joan Gill, Thelma Reynolds, Bernard Hick, Beverly Price, Phyllis Hick, Marguerite Fawcett, Catherine Angus, Marjorie Olton, Laura Severs, Sasha Angus, George Geddie, Irene Tait, Muriel Sprague and Mary McBain.

The enjoyment of the evening was greatly enhanced by the beautifully played violin solos of little Marie Vowles, accompanied at the piano by her teacher, Miss Dorothy Francis, and the delightful vocal solos of Mrs. Gillie, accompanied by Mrs. G. H. E. Green.

Leaves Today for Winnipeg

MRS. JOHN H. NORTON

And her husband, who has been appointed manager of the Canada Life Assurance Company in Winnipeg, will leave today for their new home. Since coming to Victoria from California, Capt. and Mrs. Norton have made a wide circle of friends here and have been extensively entertained prior to their departure.

Gordon Head Club Studies Events Today

Gordon Head Current Events Club met on Monday, Mrs. Maude Hammond, Victoria, presiding. Miss Barbara Dawson sang "All Through the Night" in honor of St. David's Day, and "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling," Mrs. E. G. Paddon accompanying here.

Mrs. Hammond was interesting in her discussion of current events, referring to the splendid commentator on Canadian broadcast Sunday afternoons, Vernon Bartlett, of London, giving a short resume of his comments on European events. She spoke of Coronation customs, past and present, describing interesting innovations and some of the lavish customs of the past.

In thumbnail sketches of prominent Canadians, Mrs. Hammond mentioned particularly Dr. Healey Whillan, Toronto, organist and composer. His method of composition was described, with personal anecdotes of interest.

Hon. Robert Randolph Bruce, former Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, had special interest for Victorians. He began life in Canada as a struggling young Scottish engineer, working on construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and is now Canadian minister to Japan.

An outstanding Canadian woman was Lydia Gruchy, the first woman in Canada to be ordained as a minister. She ministered to the people of outlying districts in Saskatchewan for thirteen years before her ordination, and was called the little minister by the Doukhobors. She is now the successful pastor of a Moose Jaw church.

INTERESTING PERSONALITY

Miss Ruby Giesler, Estevan, Sask., was an extremely interesting personality, known as the woman who makes everything she touches turn to gold. Her business experiences have been varied and extremely successful, among them such ventures as watch repairing, advertising work on a newspaper, running a taxi and doing her own repairs—managing a movie, and an executive on a local creamery board. She is a gifted musician and painter, a splendid rifle shot and an expert rider and curler. Her hobby is gardening and she is the holder of many trophies in that field.

The speaker closed with excerpts from an article and poem eulogizing Victoria and a reading from John Bland's "Vagabond's House."

Clubs-Societies

Wilkinson Road W.M.S.

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Wilkinson Road United Church was held at the home of Mrs. A. Allison, Mrs. E. Boorman presiding. The members stood in silent tribute to the memory of Mrs. Van Decar and repeated in unison her favorite portion of Scripture, the Twenty-Third Psalm. The devotional period was led by Mrs. W. Allan, who spoke on the life of Rev. Mr. Lax, of Poplar, who recently passed away in London after thirty-seven years of ministry in the London slum districts. A chapter from the study book, "Darkest Africa," was reviewed by Mrs. G. Massey. Mrs. G. Jones and Mrs. H. Nott were chosen as delegates to the Presbytery which will be held in Victoria next week.

The Easter meeting will be held in the church. Mrs. J. Edge pronounced the Benediction and after the meeting adjourned a social period was enjoyed, when Mrs. C. Fraser and Mrs. C. Allison assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

Typographical W.A.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Local Typographical Union held an enjoyable card party yesterday in the S.O.E. Hall. Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Horn were prize winners. Tea was served by Mrs. Cross and her committee.

Girl Guide Notes

NORTH SAANICH

The annual meeting of the North Saanich District Girl Guides was held in the Guide and Scout Hall, Sidney, with Mrs. H. C. Layard, district commissioner, in the chair. Mrs. H. R. Gale, divisional commissioner, was present, as well as representatives from the Sidney and James Island Companies and the Allies Chapter, I.O.D.E. Due to unavoidable circumstances, representatives from Salt Spring Island were unable to attend. Interesting reports were presented by the secretaries of the local associations of Sidney, James Island and Salt Spring Island. From the reports of the Guide captains and Evelyn Ows, it was shown that continued interest is being taken throughout the district. Mrs. Layard was reappointed district commissioner for 1937, with Miss M. D. Goddard as district secretary. Mrs. Gale gave a short address on the aspirations of the Guide movement and the qualifications of a Guide. A discussion followed concerning the possibility of a one-night camp for the three Guide companies in the district.

2,000 Garments DRY CLEANED in 2 Days!

LAST Week, if you remember, we announced the most spectacular Two-Day Special ever printed over Pantorium's signature. In order to demonstrate the superiority of Pantorium Dry Cleaning methods we offered to Dry Clean any number of EXTRA garments at exactly HALF-PRICE. The experiment was amazingly successful and more than two thousand garments passed through our plant in the two days—Friday and Saturday.

Our object was to prove by actual demonstration that DRY Cleaning, as it is practised by Pantorium, is the correct way . . . and the only way . . . to have clothes cleaned. We expressed it clearly when we said, "Send clothes to the laundry to be washed, but send them to the Pantorium to be DRY Cleaned." There is a tremendous difference in the result . . . in the way they look, in the way they wear, in the pleasure you have in their appearance.

Another Special for Friday and Saturday Only

With any suit, coat or dress you send to be DRY Cleaned at the regular price you also have the privilege of sending an additional suit, coat or dress at HALF-PRICE. There is no restriction upon the number of garments you may send at one time on this basis. Evening gowns, whites and velvets are the only exceptions to this offer.

Douglas Chapter

The Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter will celebrate the anniversary of the founding of the City of Victoria on Monday, March 15, with a public luncheon to be held in the large dining-room of the Hudson's Bay Company. It was made known at the meeting of the chapter held yesterday afternoon. A programme is being prepared and the luncheon will commence at 12 noon. Reservations may be made now with the chef at the Hudson's Bay. Mrs. A. S. Christie, the new regent, presided. Special tribute of sympathy was tendered to the family of the late Mrs. Florence E. Vantreight, who had been a member of the chapter for the past twenty-one years. Mrs. R. B. McKicking spoke of the faithfulness and the service

Mrs. Vantreight had given for many years. The City Council has consented to allow the chapter to sell heather, as in former years, on August 26, the anniversary of the departure of the first contingent for the Great War. Money was voted for the next three months to the Sea Cadets, Girl Guides, soldiers' graves, Red Cross Workshop and rent for the room.

Leaders' Council Elects Officers

The annual meeting of the Children's Leaders' Council of Victoria was held recently at Centennial United Church School. Rev. E. W. Horton conducted the election of officers for the new year. The following were appointed:

Honorary president, Mrs. William Naismith, First United; president, Miss Eva Middleton, Metropolitan United; vice-president, Miss Margaret Freeman, First Baptist; secretary-treasurer, Miss Mary Clay, St. Andrew's Presbyterian; junior representative, Mr. Don Taylor, First United; beginners' secretary, Miss Wilma Gardner, Oriental Home; cradle roll, Mrs. A. Swainson, First United; musical director, Miss Florence Phillimore, First Baptist.

The speaker of the evening was Miss Anne Fountain, children's work secretary for British Columbia, who gave a thoughtful talk on "Can a Little Child Pray?" Miss Agnes Dennstedt showed and explained a scroll illustrating the Lord's Prayer made by junior children, and Miss Margaret Freeman showed a model of the Easter scene made by primary children. The new executive met after the meeting and a good year of work is expected.

Dancing Team Will Appear This Evening

The Hollywood dance team, Don Julian and Marjorie, who created such an enthusiastic and favorable furore when they appeared during the midweek dinner dance and last night at the rollers "at home," will appear again by special arrangement tonight during dinner dancing from 6:45 to 11:30 o'clock, in the main dining-room of the Empress Hotel.

Y.P.S. News

Dancers Delight Crowd Of Golfers at Empress

The always attractive ballroom of the Empress Hotel was converted, last evening, into a drawing room of large proportions made comfortable with chairs and lounges and gaily arranged with flowers for the "at home" given for visiting and local golfers and their friends.

During the evening, Don Julian and Marjorie appeared in dance numbers and were acclaimed as heartily as on the previous evening, when an audience of nearly four hundred and fifty saw them in a different programme.

In "Every Saturday Night," a comedy fragment which brought forth prolonged applause, they did what has never before been done by any dance team, that is to employ dialogue as part of their dance routine. Their interpretation of Schubert's "Serenade" was a dream of poetic routine.

The graceful "Moonlight Ballet," for which the music was written by Chopin, was danced by the students of Dorothy Wilson's Russian Ballet School, and the dances in the ballet were artistically executed by the girls and included "Nocturne" by Dorcas Wilson, Phyllis Addison and Wynne Shaw; "Valse Brillante" by Mary Grant, Dorothy Routledge, Rosemary Farrow, Josephine Wilson, Patricia Boyd, Erminie Webber, Lillian Foster, Betty Moore and Betty Lindgren; "Valse Lente," Molly McCallum, Rosemary Farrow, Margery Lindgren, Joy Winsby, Joan Coley-Brown, Winnifred Longfield, Mona McDonald, Donna McInnes, Diana Darling and Bernice McKelvie. The authentic floating white ballet frocks were worn in this number.

A "Tarentelle" with music by Rossini, was the concluding number presented by the Russian Ballet School, in which Rosemary Farrow and Ian Gibson danced. Rosemary wore a short dainty ballet frock of flowered organdie with spangles and her partner was attired in a ballet suite of blue and silver.

Between turns Mr. William Tickle and the hotel orchestra played up-for-the-minute swing and rhythm music to which the guests danced.

Peerless Fashion Patterns

Edited by LAURA I. BALDY, A.M.
For many years Assistant Professor of Household Arts, Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York, N.Y.

Just a cotton wash frock for home tasks with a suggestion of Tyrol about its "waistcoat" bodice with bright buttons. You'll simply love it.

There's flattery in the rever collar and the trim panel-like line that makes you appear tall and slender. The skirt has a decided swing. The tied bow-sash at the back and huge decorative useful patch pockets are other details of interest.

This model is equally attractive in plain or printed linen, rayon challis print, etc.

You'll wear it for local shopping or the beach when summer arrives. A dressmaking chart included in the pattern explains in pictures how each part is joined. It's a time saver for the experienced as well as the amateur sewer.

Style No. 3033 is designed for sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44-inch bust. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39-inch material.

The Spring and Summer Fashion Book is filled with lovely designs for everyday wear, which are easy and inexpensive to make.

Just a cotton wash frock for home tasks with a suggestion of Tyrol about its "waistcoat" bodice with bright buttons. You'll simply love it.

There's flattery in the rever collar and the trim panel-like line that makes you appear tall and slender. The skirt has a decided swing. The tied bow-sash at the back and huge decorative useful patch pockets are other details of interest.

This model is equally attractive in plain or printed linen, rayon challis print, etc.

You'll wear it for local shopping or the beach when summer arrives. A dressmaking chart included in the pattern explains in pictures how each part is joined. It's a time saver for the experienced as well as the amateur sewer.

Style No. 3033 is designed for sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44-inch bust. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39-inch material.

Thank City—In a letter received at the City Hall yesterday, directors of the Victoria Automobile Club thanked the City Council and engineer for installation of a stop sign at the intersection of Foul Bay Road and Runnymede Avenue. They hoped several improvements would be undertaken in the "Hollywood" area, particularly elimination of corners at Robertson and Ross Streets and Richmond Avenue.

Let's look forward about 20 years

Physical well-being begins with the eating habits in infancy. That is why so many doctors advise giving babies plenty of fresh vegetables in strained form. It is difficult to obtain really fresh vegetables for home-cooking. Sometimes it is a long way from garden to your home. And the home-cooking method usually permits the loss of much flavor and nourishment.

Heinz Strained Foods are always garden-fresh—gathered, cooked and sealed within a few hours—in enamel-lined tins. A special vacuum process of cooking keeps in vitamins and mineral salts, so essential to baby's well-being.

Instead of using up so much time in selecting, cooking and preparing vegetables, why not keep Heinz Strained Foods on baby's bill of fare? They come in great variety—Soups—Vegetables—Cereal. No waste. Convenient—ready to eat except for seasoning, which you add if needed. Every tin bears a label with two assurances of quality and safety—the Heinz 57 trademark and the seal of the American Medical Association's Council on Foods. Order Heinz Strained Foods from your dealer now.

"Questions and Answers about Heinz Strained Foods" a convenient little pamphlet with full particulars, what varieties to use, how to use and at what age, gladly sent on request. H. J. Heinz Company, Dept. SF8, Toronto, Ont.

CHAPTER XXII

"I had no idea you were here!" Heather said breathlessly. "How long have you been following me?"

"For some time—I saw you leave the house," Bruce replied.

"It must be nearly five o'clock—but it was such a lovely evening I felt I must stay out. Shall we go back? And where is everyone?"

"They are not hiding in my coat pockets," Bruce said with faint sarcasm. "Although from your point of view I suppose they should be."

She tried to laugh. "What nonsense! I only thought—"

"Meant that you hoped you were not to be forced into a tete-a-tete with me, of course. Well, I am afraid that this time there is no escape."

She had nothing to say, and he asked after a moment, "Well, are you satisfied now that you have got your own way, and have successfully ruined my life and your own? Not to mention Vilette and that poor devil Mathews." He laughed. It should be interesting to see what happens in the future."

She said desperately, "You are cruelly unfair to me. I have only tried to do my best—but if you won't help me—"

"Help you? What do you want me to do? To pretend an over-whelming love for Vilette? His voice rose a little in excitement. "Have you ever tried to force an affection which does not exist? Vilette, poor child, must know by instinct that the whole thing is a farce and that I don't love her."

Heather broke in eagerly. "But you will love her! In time you will, when you know her better. She can be so sweet and dear. Why she told me that coming home—on the boat."

He interrupted. "On the boat I treated her as I treated any other woman—I never pretended to care for her—"

"But you let her bring you home—"

"Because I had discovered that she was your sister."

They walked some way in silence, and Heather noticed that already the sunshine had clouded over and that the sea looked grey.

Then Bruce said bluntly, "And do you expect to love Mathews—in time?" His voice was bitterly ironical, his moody eyes rested on her face. "Perhaps you will," he answered his own question. "I know you will if it's humanly possible and if you believe it to be your duty. Duty!—how I loathe that word!" And then the silence fell again.

It was Heather who spoke next, with infinite difficulty. "If you think Vilette will not be happy, Bruce—and yet, I know she loves you—I know she does, and if only you'd be kinder—more understanding—"

"Would you find it easy—to force yourself to show affection to a man who was nothing to you? Could you go up to Peppin, for instance, and put your arms round his neck, as you used to do with me, Heather?"

and Heather said voicelessly, "You are very cruel."

He caught her up quickly. "When you are so kind! Is that what you would like to say? And then, 'If I had Mathews' money I suppose it would all be easy—straightforward. You would marry me in order to put the family in comfort for the rest of their lives; you would—'"

She looked up at him, her eyes dark with pain. "That is the cruellest thing you have ever said to me," she whispered.

Didn't he know how she loved him? Had she been so much more clever than she had believed? She said with a last effort, "I think you willfully misunderstand me, Bruce, and perhaps it's only natural that you should. It's so long since we—"

since you—knew us very well that I think you've forgotten all the difficulties and—and—all the difficulties I've had to meet for so long that they've become part of my life. It's too late to go back now—even if I wanted to. Perhaps I'm wrong—I don't know, but somehow I think it seems to me that I'm doing the right thing—and I think that even if I loved you (her voice was quite steady now) I couldn't stand in Vilette's way. It wouldn't give me happiness if I did. You may think that's silly . . . perhaps it is . . . but they are so much a part of me, almost as if they were my own children; that I couldn't do anything that would hurt them—not anything."

She smiled wistfully. "Even when they were quite small I could never bring myself to punish them—John always did it for me, or Caesar—and it's still the same. I would far rather be unhappy myself than know that they were, any of them, and that's the simple truth," she added steadily.

Bruce did not speak till they were at the house, then he said, "I'm sorry . . . forgive me."

She just touched his hand. "There's nothing to forgive."

On Monday there was a violent thunderstorm. When Vilette said that of course it would be wet on Paddy's last day.

"My last day, too," Bruce said.

She raised startled eyes, her color fading. "But you're not going," she said blankly.

He smiled at her. "I'm afraid so. I shall leave the car for you, as Jeppson has very kindly offered to fly me back to London. My leave isn't intended to be all holiday, you know."

Vilette made no reply, but presently she left the room, shutting the door behind her with a little slam.

Jeppson frowned. He had not had too happy a time at The Haven. He was very sincerely in love with Vilette and he had hated the three-cornered position. He had no thought of criticizing Vilette, and her manner towards Bruce made him feel awkward and ashamed. On the whole he was glad to be going back, even though Vilette had extracted a promise from him to come again as soon as possible.

He genuinely liked and admired Bruce, and would very much rather have disliked him.

Vilette went up to her room and banged that door too, turning the key behind her.

What a muddle she had made of everything! . . . she had flirted with Paddy Jeppson very much as a gambler who has lost will fly to drink and she realized, even as a gambler realizes afterwards, that it had done no good.

She sat down at the dressing table and began to make up her face. It was purely a mechanical action, but it was what she always did when things seemed to have got beyond her control.

She reddened her lips and thought that Jeppson was a fool; she powdered her nose and told herself that she hated Bruce and was glad he was going away, then the next moment she had found paper and a pencil and was writing to him—little heartbroken note of apology for her behavior, and an appeal for forgiveness.

Bruce had found many such notes on his dressing table since they came to The Haven. Vilette would quarrel with him fiercely, and then would humble herself to the dust, and always it was he who felt guilty.

"My darling"—her pencil flew—"Don't go. I shall be miserable without you. I know I haven't been kind but I didn't mean it. I love you so much—I shall never, love anyone else. I shall die loving you—"

The old theatrical tone always crept in and robbed her words of their sincerity.

"Please stay just another day or two, and I will show you that it's not just an empty sentiment when I say that if I lost you I should not go on living. If only you'd be kind to me, Bruce."

The flying pencil was still, and Vilette's troubled eyes wandered to the window. Wasn't he kind. She knew that he was never unkind! But the knowledge did not help.

She remembered, and hated the memory, that last night, when they had been out together, she asked him to kiss her. Bruce had put his arms round her, bending to kiss her cheek, but the kiss hurt her almost as much as if it had been refused. He had put his arm round her! Yes, and he might have put his arm round her in just the same kind brotherly way, as around Heather!

Heather! Vilette moistened her dry lips, and asked herself for the hundredth time if Heather had found him such a half-hearted lover seventeen years ago.

She tore up again what she had written and started again, covering two whole pages with passionate words of love and remorse and even wetting them with tears, and then as the supper gong boomed she slipped across the landing to Bruce's room and laid the letter on the dressing table.

He never answered her notes, never even mentioned them unless she asked, "Did you find my letter?" Then he would say very kindly, "Yes—thank you, and of course it's all right; don't be unhappy."

But it was not all right, and she was unhappy all the same. And tomorrow he would be gone!

It was Caesar who struck the first discordant note at supper. "Tomorrow at this hour," he said, "our party will be considerably smaller. There will be two vacant chairs, two absent friends."

"Bruce may not go after all," Vilette said quickly. She could never really understand when she was beaten, for by her own rules of the game of love, Bruce, upon reading her poor little letter should at once have capitulated and seen to it that she lived happily ever after.

He looked at her questioningly. "I am afraid I shall have to go," he said. "I have some rather urgent business to attend to."

"Are you going to see about putting the banns up?" Effie enquired interestedly.

He smiled at her across the table. "Who's banns? My own, or Heather's?"

"Both of them," she retorted, and then excitedly. "Why don't you have a double wedding?"

Vilette flared up, all her good resolutions forgotten. "I'm not having any stupid 'wedding,'" she said. "I hate fuss and nonsense of that sort. We're going to a registrar's office and I shan't have the entire family there either."

"Then it's the first time in your life you haven't wanted a fuss," Bobbie put in. "And I shall come anyway—just to have a look at Bruce, and to see if he's nervous."

"I shall come too, then," Effie cried.

"You won't be asked," Vilette retorted, "either of you."

The younger girl turned quickly to Bruce. "You'll ask us, won't you?"

"It looks to me as if I shall have to do exactly as I'm told," Bruce said humbly.

Vilette turned on him like a flash. "If you mean you'll do as I tell you—it will be the first time in your life," she said with the hysteria of snapping nerves. "And if there's going to be all this argument, I don't care if I'm never married at all, and I don't suppose you do either."

Oil and Farming Prospects Bring Boom to Calgary

"Oil is booming, and things are humming in Calgary," commented O. C. Arnett, president of the brokerage firm of O. C. Arnett & Co. Ltd., Calgary, who is enjoying a short holiday in Victoria, when interviewed at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

He declared brokerage offices, for the first time in many years, were working late at night in an effort to keep abreast of the orders, and that many vacant office buildings in the city were rapidly being taken up. In addition to all, he commented that if the amount of snow was any indication, Alberta should have the best crop in years.

Mr. Arnett, who is also a member of the board of directors of The Calgary Alberta, will remain on the coast a few days before returning home.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Timid Danny Meadow Mouse

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Danny Meadow Mouse is timid. Everybody says so, and what everybody says ought to be so. But, just as anybody can make a mistake, sometimes, so can everybody. Still, in this case it is quite likely that everybody is right. Danny Meadow Mouse is timid. Ask Peter Rabbit. Ask Sammy Jay. Ask Striped Chipmunk. They will all tell you the same thing. Sammy Jay might even tell you that Danny is afraid of his own shadow, or that he tries to run away from his own tail. Of course, this isn't true. Sammy Jay likes to say mean things. It isn't fair to Danny Meadow Mouse to believe what Sammy Jay says.

But the fact is Danny certainly is timid. More than that, he isn't ashamed of it—not the least little bit.

"You see, it's this way," said Danny as he sat on his doorstep one sunny morning.

"I would think it would be a very uncomfortable feeling."

"It is," replied Danny. "But, as I said before, it is a very good thing to keep one on guard when there are so many watching for one as there are for me. Now, there's Mr. Black-snake and—"

"Where?" exclaimed old Mr. Toad, turning as pale as a toad can turn and looking uneasily and anxiously in every direction.

Danny turned his head to hide a smile, for if old Mr. Toad wasn't showing fear, no one ever did. "Oh," said he, "I didn't mean that he is anywhere around here now. What I was going to say was that there is Mr. Blacksnake, and Granny Fox, and Reddy Fox, and Redtail the Hawk, and Hooty the Owl, and others I might name always watching for a chance to make a dinner from poor little me. Do you wonder that I'm afraid most of the time?"

"No," replied old Mr. Toad. "No, I don't wonder that you are afraid. It must be dreadful to feel hungry eyes are watching for you every minute of the day and night, too."

"Oh, it's not so bad," replied Danny. "It's rather exciting. Besides, it keeps my wits sharp all the time. I am afraid I should find life very boring, indeed, if, like you, I feared nothing and nobody. By the way, see how queerly that grass is moving over there. It looks as if Mr. Blacksnake—"

SEMI-FINALS REACHED IN CANADIAN BADMINTON

Three Outsiders And Local Golfer Make Semi-Finals

Lee Steil, Paul Glaser, A. R. McMillan and Alan Taylor Advance in Empress Tournament at Oak Bay—Keen Play Marks Open Event—Four Victorians Gain Semis in Women's Event

A trio of invaders and a lone Victoria campaigner marched into the semi-finals of the men's handicap event for the Sir Edward Beatty trophy as play continued in the ninth annual Empress Winter golf tournament yesterday at the Oak Bay course. Alan Taylor, son of Phil Taylor, professional at the Victoria Golf Club, will carry Victoria's colors into the semis today and will match strokes with Paul Glaser, Seattle, while in the other bracket, Lee Steil, Seattle favorite, meets A. R. McMillan, Grand Prairie, Alta.

The women's handicap championship is purely a Victoria competition. Two one-sided and a like number of close matches featured yesterday's play. Mrs. Art Dowell put out Mrs. R. C. Field, who eliminated the tournament medalist, Miss Jane Watter, the day previous, with comparative ease, 6 and 5. Mrs. Alex Watson was carried to the nineteenth green before she could shake off Mrs. Paterson, 2 and 1, while Mrs. H. N. Lay came through against Mrs. S. Enke, a finalist four years ago at Colwood, 3 and 1. Miss Nora Wilson had too many golf shots in her bag for Mrs. B. R. Philbrick and closed out the argument at the thirteenth green, 7 and 6.

STEIL WINS EASILY

Steil fired far too many pars and under-par figures at W. C. Fisher, Calgary, and advanced into the next round of the Beatty trophy event, 7 and 6. The Seattle star conceded the Alberta shotmaker eleven strokes and was expected to be given a stiff battle, but it turned out just the opposite, with Steil having everything his own way. Dick Cox gave A. R. McMillan several strokes and could not overcome the handicap and therefore bowed out of the running, 4 and 3. R. F. Glaser put Joe Newberger, a Seattle clubmate, into the gallery via a 3 and 2 decision, while Alan Taylor gave away strokes and came through against Teddy Slingsby, 3 and 2. Taylor is a strong favorite to reach the final, and if so, will be picked by many to win the honors.

Sharp competition marked play in the men's open event. Ernie Ketcham, Seattle, shot consistently good golf in winning from Freddy Painter, young George Vale shotmaker, on the home green, while Lee Steil had his hands full with Dave Randall to gain the verdict on the last green. This pair played some good golf shots and also some mighty poor ones. They reached the turn all square after Steil had sank his approach at the eighth for a birdie two. There was little between them as the match progressed over the incoming stretch, but Steil hit the flag at the seventh with his third and his ball stopped inches from the cup for his birdie four, which made him dormie.

RANDALL HALF-STYMIED

Randall had a chance to send the match to overtime at the eighteenth, but a half-stymie by Steil blew his opportunity, as he failed to negotiate the difficult putt and the match was all over.

Alan Taylor was entirely too "hot" for Clyde Banfield and mashed and putted his way to the most decisive victory in the event by winning a 7 and 6 decision. J. H. Wilson had a tough problem on his hands in Teddy Slingsby, but carried the winning shots in his bag and beat the former marathon swimmer at the seventeenth, 2 and 1.

MEN'S HANDICAP

Rosemont Nips Seabiscuit at the Wire

For the first time in its three-year-old history a favorite came home to roost in the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap last Saturday, at the Santa Anita Park, in California. And just did, requiring the aid of the photographic apparatus to determine that the Foxcatcher Farm's Rosemont had landed there ahead of Seabiscuit. This soundphoto shows the finish—with Rosemont first (on outside), Seabiscuit, second (legs barely discernible behind Rosemont), Indian Broom third and Special Agent fourth.

Black Hawks Keep Alive Faint Hope By Close Victory

Chicago Squad Skates to 5-3 Win Over Montreal Canadiens to Cling to Mathematical Chance of Gaining Play-Off Berth—Detroit Red Wings Score 2-1 Decision Over the Rangers

MONTREAL, March 4.—Chicago Black Hawks, keeping alive the faintest of hopes for a National Hockey League play-off berth, defeated the section-leading Montreal Canadiens 5-3 tonight for their third victory in five days. Before some 5,000 fans, Johnny Gottselig ran up a two-goal first-period lead. The teams split four goals in the second period and two in the third. The Hawks skated the Canadiens ragged most of the way, showing a classier brand of hockey than at any time in Montreal this season.

George Mantha, with the first of two goals, cut their lead once in the second period and Paul Haynes did it again eight minutes later after Wilder Larchelle and Paul Thompson had fired past Goalie Wilf Cude.

Pep Kelley and Mantha split the last pair.

Only Cude's brilliant work during the last half of the third period, when his defence left him alone almost all the time, prevented Hawks running up a wide margin.

Officials—Cleghorn and Smith.

Summary

First Period—1, Chicago, Gottselig (March, Trudel), 4:11; 2, Chicago, Gottselig (Trudel), 17:07. Penalties: None.

Second Period—2, Canadiens, Mantha (McKenzie), 8:57; 4, Chicago, Larchelle (Romes, Thompson), 14:25; 5, Chicago, Thompson, 16:42; 6, Canadiens, Haynes (Joliat, Gagnon), 18:34. Penalty: Gagnon (misconduct).

Third Period—7, Chicago, Kelly (Levisky), 11:00; 8, Canadiens, Mantha (Siebert), 11:45. Penalties: March, Gottselig, Blake.

WINGS BEAT RANGERS

DETROIT, March 4.—New York Rangers' drive to recapture second place in the National Hockey League's United States Division was stopped tonight. Detroit Red Wings turned them back, 2-1, in their last appearance here this season.

Rangers hit a fast pace, only to be balked by Normie Smith's superb net minding. The Detroit goalies kicked out shot after shot during the third period New York power play.

Art Coulter put Rangers ahead at 4:09 of the first period. Bucko McDonald tied the score 1 minute and 32 seconds later, taking the puck from Wally Kilrea at the side of the New York goal to beat Dave Kerr.

Pete Kelly's third goal at 5:16 was Detroit's winning tally, clinching a play in which Wally Kilrea passed 40 Goodfellow at left wing and Goodfellow fed it to Kelly in front of the nets.

Officials—Ion and Mitchell.

Summary

First Period—1, Rangers, Dillon (Boucher), 4:09; 2, Detroit, McDonald (W. Kilrea), 5:41. Penalties: None.

Second Period—Scoring: None. Penalty: Goodfellow.

ERNIE TODD NAMED HEAD

Popular Local Sportsman Elected President of Victoria Gun Club

E. D. Todd, popular Victoria sportsman, was elected president of the Victoria Gun Club at the organization meeting held in The Colonist board room and attended by a large number of scatter-gun artists.

The club intends to install two complete regulation traps and one complete skeet layout on the new grounds near Albert Head. The grounds are ten miles from the city and border the highway and have a clear background. Present plans also call for the construction of a modern clubhouse.

While new to some people, skeet shooting is exceptionally popular in the United States and even during the days of the depression, enjoyed considerable success. Skeet is the closest resemblance to shooting in the field. Special gun and equipment are not necessary and every shot is different.

With such excellent facilities at their disposal, officers of the Victoria Gun Club feel confident that the club will fill a long-felt need for this type of sport in Victoria and surrounding districts.

Many inquiries have already been received and judging by the early response the success of the venture is already practically assured.

Plans for the clubhouse and layout have been submitted and the members intend to start actual construction of the buildings and installation of the equipment in the next few weeks.

Sportmen interested in joining the club can get full information from E. B. Wilson, secretary, or Johnny Wenger.

The complete slate of officers follows: President, E. D. Todd; vice-president, H. Hasenfratz; secretary, treasurer, E. B. Wilson; field captain, J. A. Wenger; membership committee, J. A. Wenger, E. B. Wilson, J. A. Rithet and A. E. Hasenfratz; building committee, F. Cross, A. Ross, W. G. Russell, H. Hasenfratz, A. E. Hasenfratz, E. B. Wilson and J. A. Wenger.

Officials—Ion and Mitchell.

BIRCH IS LONE B.C. PLAYER TO STAY IN MEN'S COMPETITION

Vancouver Shuttler Strokes Way to Final in Singles and Faces Forsythe Today—Zaharko and Storey Advance—Lency Beaten—Daphne Fernie Puts Out Ruth Robertson

By LOCKLEY JONES

Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER, March 3.—British Columbians turned loose their heavy artillery in quarter-finals of the women's singles event of the Canadian Badminton Championship Tournament here today. Only defending champion Mrs. W. R. Walton of Toronto survived the barrage to carry the East-thrust into the semis.

Blond-haired Daphne Fernie of Kamloops, B.C., upset Ottawa's Ruth Robertson—twice holder of the Canadian singles title in former years—in straight sets, 13-11 and 11-3, and Ottawa's favored Isobel Bryson fell before the steady play of Kelowna's Margaret Taylor, 11-8, 11-6.

Mrs. Gordon Pitt, Winnipeg, ranked No. 4 in Canada, bowed out to fast-stroking Mrs. Anna Kier, Patrick of Vancouver, 11-3, 11-5. Mrs. Patrick's return placement shots had the Winnipegger baffled.

Mrs. Walton had little trouble in eliminating Margaret Robertson, other half of the Robertson sister combination from Ottawa, 11-0, 11-3. Miss Taylor will meet Mrs. Patrick and Miss Fernie faces Mrs. Walton in semi-finals tomorrow.

EASTERNERS ADVANCE

But as the Easterners were bombed out of the picture in women's play, Toronto's triple threat for the undefended men's singles throne—Jack Storey, Joe Zaharko and Jack Forsythe—toppled their Western opponents and advanced the East colors into semi-finals of the men's singles.

Only Vancouver's Dick Birch, Canada's ranked No. 2 player, was left to uphold the West.

In semi-finals tomorrow, Zaharko will meet Storey and Forsythe will play Birch.

Play this afternoon, Forsythe beat Eric Lency, Duncan, 15-10, 15-12; Zaharko defeated Emley Moore, June, 15-10, 15-7.

SIXTH ROUND OF ENGLISH CUP SET FOR SATURDAY

Arsenal XI Will Face Bromwich In Day's Feature

Gunners Expect Tough-Battle on Hands When Teams Take Field Tomorrow—Record Crowd Will See Wolverhampton Clash With Sunderland—League Matches in Scotland

LONDON, March 4 (P.)—Londoners are hoping the capital will have three representatives—Arsenal, Tottenham Hotspurs and Millwall—in the semi-finals for the English Football Cup after Saturday's games, but the wagers on the teams hardly supports their optimism.

As eight clubs prepare for the sixth round, Arsenal is established favorite to lift the trophy at odds of 11 to 4. Manchester City is quoted at 4 to 1, Wolverhampton Wanderers 9 to 2, Sunderland 7 to 1, Preston North End and West Bromwich Albion 9 to 1, Tottenham Hotspurs 10 to 1 and Millwall 20 to 1.

The gunners, cup winners last year, are training at Brighton for their match at West Bromwich. Ted Drake, their sharpshooting centre forward, is not likely to play through a knee injury, but the crack London side is expected to win. It will be a tough battle, as the Albion is a great cup-fighting team and has reached the semi-finals in the competition on twelve occasions.

Wolverhampton Wanderers are at home to Sunderland and a record crowd is expected.

RECORD BROKEN

The Wanderers' ground record has been broken twice this season. At dawn this morning scores were in line for tickets and when the box office opened the queues were so long police were called on to keep order.

After a week's start in league play the Wolves have turned in some fine performances lately and may prove too strong for the Roker Park team.

White Hart Lane, home of the Spurs, is sold out for the cup tie with Preston North End. The Londoners will field the team that has proved so successful in previous rounds. Lancashire's representatives have spent this week training at Hastings and are confident of winning.

Millwall, dubbed "Giant Killer" after victories over Chelsea and Derby County, major leaguers, is happy. The Londoners will play in red against Manchester City, another top-notch, owing to the similarity in the colors of the two clubs. The City players will don white shirts and the Third Division squad's optimism is caused by the fact that all the cup victims this season have been white.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

GLASGOW, March 4 (P.)—The end of the Scottish Football League is in sight, and the annual problems of relegation and leadership are causing not a few entries some worry. This week's line-up doesn't seem particularly bright for the low-placed teams.

Queen of South, just clear of the relegation zone, is out to make it two straight over Glasgow Rangers, leaders of the circuit by two points. The Dumbfries squad crossed would-be critics in the cup competition when they scored a spectacular win over the cup-holders in the first round. In their first league meeting at Dumbfries October 24, the Rangers were held to a 1-1 draw.

Perched on the seventeenth rung of the championship ladder, Hibernians entertain the dangerous Celtic team Saturday, while the bottom-placed Dumbfries eleven go to Dundee, placed well up in the standing. Pre-game dope gives the Celts and Dundee the edge.

Perhaps the best-played game on the card will be staged at St. Johnstone with Aberdeen providing the opposition. The Aberdonians, two points behind Rangers and still in the hunt for the coveted cup, will unclothe their bag of tricks in a determined effort to at least hold the runner-up spot.

HEARTS TO TRAVEL

The only team in the loop to take full points from Glasgow Rangers in league play this year, Hearts, have an away game against Kilmarnock. They trail Aberdeen by one point and hold the same margin over Celtic. The Edinburgh team is favored to win.

Two Glasgow games bring together Clyde and Albion Rovers and Partick Thistles and Third Lanark. In remaining encounters, Falkirk should defeat St. Mirren at Falkirk and Motherwell is given the advantage over Arbroath.

MUST REVIVE COAL EXPORT

Leader of the Second Division by seven points, Ayr United goes to Alloa this week-end while Morton, next in line, has a tough assignment against Airdrieonians. The third-place St. Bernards entertain East Fife.

CARDIFF, WALES (P.)—

Everywhere in the black of black depressed areas the investigating commissioner was told the coal export trade must be revived before conditions can improve.

CAREY DEFEATS NELS STEPHENS

Wins Main Event of Boxing Card at Esquimalt — Pocock Wins

Ruler of the British Columbia middleweight division, Rex Carey, Victoria fisticuffer, last night won the nod over Nels Stephens, eighteen-year-old Work Point boxer, in the main event of a Simon-pure glove-throwing show at the Esquimalt Athletic Association Hall. About two hundred fans witnessed the bouts.

Carey threw more gloves and had the better of the argument. The two judges and the referee all marked their cards for the champion. Stephens' left eye was cut in the second round when the boys bumped heads, and the claret flowed throughout the match. They fought at 160 pounds.

Fred Pocock, Work Point Barracks, was given the call over Eddie De Costa, Esquimalt light-heavyweight, after three rounds of wild slugging. De Costa took the initial round on his aggressiveness, but lost the next two sessions. Groggy and tired, De Costa slipped and fell to the canvas and took a nine count in the second session. Pocock dropped him a few seconds earlier. They fought at 175 pounds.

CLEMENTS WINS

Bob Clements, Esquimalt, who tossed gloves from all angles, was given the verdict over young Allan Duval after three fast rounds in the 125-pound class, while Sonny Ford, Army belt, took a decision from Jimmy Wuol, another soldier glove-thrower. Ford weighed 147 pounds and Wuol one pound less.

Roy Duval, 125-pound Saanich youngster, was awarded a two-round technical kayo over Phil Moser, 125 pounds, Victoria. George Robinson, 138 pounds, Victoria, and Neil Duval, 140 pounds, Saanich, stepped three wild rounds to a draw. Jim and Dick Buxton, brothers, boxed three rounds to a rousing draw. Jim Buxton weighed ninety pounds and Dick Buxton seventy-five pounds.

Billy Buxton, Victoria featherweight, who stopped Abie Israel, Seattle fighter, Tuesday evening, in the Sound City, was introduced and received quite an ovation.

Louis Callan refereed all bouts. Bob Vipond and "Scotty" McKay were the judges.

TWO RUGBY GAMES CARDED SATURDAY

Only two Rugby matches will be played tomorrow by local fifties. At Macdonald Park, J.B.A.A. and Navy senior fifties will do battle, while at Oak Bay Park the Oak Bay Wanderers will meet the Fifth Brigade in an Intermediate League encounter. Both fixtures will commence at 2:45 o'clock. Previously scheduled to play, Canadian Scottish senior and intermediate fifties will not perform owing to the death yesterday of Major H. M. McGivern, second in command of the First Battalion, 16th Canadian Scottish Regiment.

PLAZA

In "Trouble for Two," starring Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell, currently at the Plaza Theatre, a prince and princess throw their titles to the wind for a month of freedom and adventure and love. The story was taken from "The Suicide Club," by Robert Louis Stevenson. Frank Morgan and Louis Hayward head the supporting cast.

Dick Powell and Joan Blondell take Major Roles in "Gold Diggers of 1937."

Not to be outdone by Bob Burns, another native of Arkansas, Dick Powell is busy attempting to invent a freak musical instrument which will rival the well-known "bawoaka." Powell, who is currently playing the leading role in "Gold Diggers of 1937," will call his invention the "Powell-o-ka!"

With Powell in "Gold Diggers of 1937," is his bride, Joan Blondell, as co-star. The first National musical comes to the Atlas Theatre today with a score of comedians and 200 dancing beauties. It was directed by Lloyd Bacon and Busby Berkeley.

JUVENILE STAR IN DOMINION FEATURE

"The Holy Terror," Which Opens Here Today, Has Jane Withers Cast in Lead

The only time her director has any trouble with Jane Withers, mischievous juvenile star, is when he wants to use a double for some risky scene in one of her pictures. Then the rollicking youngster asserts herself.

In her latest Twentieth Century-Fox film, "The Holy Terror," coming today to the Dominion Theatre, the script called for a double to slide down a drain pipe from a second-story window.

"That's sissy business," she promptly advised Director James Tinling. "I'll do it myself."

Anthony Martin, Leah Ray, Joan Davis, El Brendel and Joe Lewis are in the cast supporting Jane in "The Holy Terror."

FOUR PLAYS WILL BE GIVEN TONIGHT

Empire Theatre Scene of Victoria and Vancouver Island Drama Eliminations

Eight of the most interesting one-act plays Victoria has had an opportunity to see in a long time will be presented tonight and tomorrow night at the Empire Theatre, when four plays will be given each evening of the Victoria and Vancouver Island Eliminations Contest of the 1937 Dominion Drama Festival.

Tonight's plays, which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, upon the arrival of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber, will be "A La Boccaccio," by E. O'Brien, with the Priory Players; "The Courtship of Lydia Languish," an adaptation of R. B. Sheridan's "Rivals," by M. Ord, with the Sharnbrook Players; an act of Noel Coward's, "Private Lives," with the Beaux-Arts; and "The Vision at the Inn," by Susan Buchan (Lady Tweedsmuir), with the drama section of the Russian Ballet School.

Saturday night's plays, which will begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock, will be "Theatre of the Soul," by Nicolas Breinowit, with a team from the Beaux-Arts; an entry from the Victoria Little Theatre Association, "The West Begins," by Audrey St. Denis Wood; "The Careless Warrior," by Reby Edmond; and a second entry from the Victoria Little Theatre Association, Act I of Galsworthy's "The Skin Game." Miss O'Brien, Miss Wood and Miss Edmond are Victoria playrights.

Jane Dixon Says:

TODAY WE HAVE THE STORY OF A GIRL WHO MADE THE DISCONCERTING DISCOVERY THAT SHE IS ENGAGED TO A PERSON WHO APPEARS TO BE MORE LIKE A WALKING CASH REGISTER THAN A MAN

There's very little use, young man, in presenting the One and Only girl with an armful of roses, if you are going to say, "I hope you will like this little token of my affection, dear." The florist assured me they are brand fresh this morning, and they cost two dollars and fifty cents—twenty cents apiece.

The price tag will take all the romance out of them. The fragrance and tender beauty of the flowers will be lost under the blanket of materialism you throw over them.

Try to remember that women in love are incurably romantic. Marriage is a business, yes, but courtship should be a glamorous adventure into which business enters but never dominates.

Discuss the business of your future with the one you love, but don't make it your theme song.

The thrilling theme song of sweetheart days is, and always will be, "I love you."

Dear Miss Dixon: I'm engaged to a young man who is an intelligent person, an excellent manager and well liked by everyone.

When he asked me to marry him, I loved him. I think I do still, but I'm not sure. The last few times we've been together he has talked of nothing but his money troubles—how he is going to pay for this, and where he will get the money for that. He enumerates all his expenses, even those incurred by coming to see me.

CASH REGISTER ROMEO

He says marriage is an absolute business proposition, and it should be worked out systematically before it is gone into.

Maybe I'm wrong, but it seems to me that he has taken a lot of sweetness and beauty out of our romance by being businesslike.

"Please don't misunderstand, I'm interested in everything he does and I appreciate his coming to see me when perhaps he should be putting this money into other things. What I wonder is if it is wrong of me to resent his making cost and credit the sole topic of his conversations.

He is so serious, and worries so much about money that I am uncomfortable about going out for a supposedly good time because I feel that in his mind he is counting every penny.

What I fear is, if he can be so coldly and calculatingly practical during our engagement, how will he act when we are married?

I'd rather be a spinster all my life than marry a man who watches every nickel. Surely there is a difference between thrift and parsimony. I know we will have to practice thrift, and I don't mind doing it in the least, but I see no reason why we should make a grim burden of a normal necessity.

AFRAID TO TELL THE TRUTH

I don't feel toward my fiancé quite as I did, and he has noticed the change. He insists on knowing why—I don't know what to tell him. I'm afraid if I tell him the truth he will think I am silly and irresponsible to care so much about the romantic things.

Please help me.—L. G. C.

Answer: There is nothing silly or irresponsible about your concern for your future with a suitor who counts his hours with you in terms of money.

He sounds to me like one of those tiresome apostles of common sense who carry their creed so far that they become all head and no heart. A fiancé so practical that he makes you feel the good times you have together are an extravagance instead of an investment is very likely to progress into a penny-squeezing husband.

Better overcome your reluctance and tell him quite frankly that while you are interested in the business of your proposed partnership, it is not the whole of your life. Suggest that he limit the discussion of finance to a reasonable length of time, and then drop it completely while the two of you enjoy your love and the bright pattern of your youth.

In other words, you do not care to marry a cash register. You want to marry a man.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"FARDON MY GLOVE!"

On the surface, there is no reason why a gloved hand should not be as appropriate to shake as one which is naked. Indeed, we have many a time wished the hand we shook was not only gloved, but padded, too!

Custom, however, is king, and deers removing the glove before shaking hands—a courtesy harking back to the day when the historic coat of mail was a commonplace, the wearing of it not only incumbent upon every knight, but desirable as a measure of self-preservation whenever he appeared in public.

Opportunities fall in the way of every man who is resolved to take advantage of them.
